Milk Price Here Going Up Tuesday

Explosion, Fire Cause $31,000 Loss in City

One business establishment was gutted and two others were damaged by fire, water and smoke in a $31,000 fire believed to have started with an explosion inside Babe's Dress Shop, 10131 82 ave., at about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. Two families living on the second storey of one building were forced to flee.

Witness of the explosion, Bernard Clausen, Commercial hotel, who was standing at 82 ave. and 102 st., said he heard a loud explosion and when he looked toward the buildings saw glass flying across the street followed by a sheet of flame.

DESTROYED

Babe's Dress Shop, owned by Mrs. E. Sanderlin, 11305 92 st. Estimated value of business, $5,500 with $4,500 insurance carried.

DAMAGED

Regal Meat and Grocery store, 10129 82 ave., owned by Len and Reinhardt Smith, residents of the second floor of the building. Estimated damage $25,000 to store and suites above.

Western Meat Products, situated in the rear of 10129 82 ave., owned by Fred Granau, 9950 80 ave., slight smoke and water damage estimated at $200.

Sam Lee Laundry, 10133 82 ave., owned by Mah Wing. Estimated damage by smoke and water, $300. Insurance of $1,000 was carried on this business.

Firemen and daring bystanders saved about half the furniture of the Smith brothers, owners of the three buildings. The furniture was carried to the street and then to a house nearing completion being built by the brothers. Len Smith had lived in the block for 13 years and had operated the store for 19 years.

Constables S. Olexiuk and H. J. Moore were on patrol near the scene at the time and heard the explosion. Seeing the building afire, they ran to assist the two families from the top floor. Besides the Smith brothers and their wives there were four children, Merle, 10, Marion, five, Carol, 11, and Ronald, seven. The mother of Mrs. Len Smith, 84-year-old Mrs. R. Warner, also was forced to flee from the burning building.

Fire halls 2 and 6 responded to the alarm and fought the blaze for an hour and a quarter before bringing it under control. Two pumper trucks, a ladder truck and four lines of hose were used.

Efforts of firemen to keep the flames from getting a start in the roofs of the two-storeyed store building and laundry were credited with saving the buildings from being completely demolished. With the exception of the laundry, which is separated by about three feet from the

Air Crash Victim Dies From Injuries

Walter Devos, 48, of Ghent, Belgium, one of 18 persons who initially survived the crash of a Belgian airliner in Newfoundland, died Tuesday in hospital, six days after the crash. This picture shows Devos, in a stretcher, being lifted from a PBY flying boat to which he was transferred after being flown five miles from the crash in a helicopter.

7 Soviet Leaders To Be Prosecuted

LONDON, (CP)—The Moscow radio Thursday said that the council of ministers of the Soviet Union had issued a decree calling for the prosecution and removal from office of seven officials of the Kuibyshev and Yaroslavl regions in a campaign to improve the efficiency of collective farms. The officials included two district secretaries of the Communist party.

U. S. Army Claims 25% Meat Output

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The United States army slapped a claim Thursday on one-fourth of all meat turned out by federally-inspected slaughterers as the preelection storm over bare American butcher counters mounted in intensity.

With the administration split over the issue of keeping price lids on the rapidly vanishing commodities, top Democratic party chiefs assembled here for a huddle that appeared certain to take note of the whole situation.

Congressional elections are just 40 days away.

But the army showed no disposition to await possible action by any other branch of the government.

Reporting that its "visible supply of meat is less than a month's requirement," the army Wednesday night served priority papers on all packers operating under federal inspection ordering them to set aside 25 percent of their total output for the armed services, the War Shipping administration and veterans' hospitals.

CQMS J. Drinnan Killed in Mishap

CALGARY, (CP) — CQMS. J. Drinnan, of Calgary and Edmonton, died Wednesday in hospital at Innisfail a few hours after a highway accident two miles south of Innisfail. He suffered a fractured skull.

CQMS. Drinnan, a member of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, was attached to the Loyal Edmonton Regiment. His wife and family live in Calgary.

Drinnan was in the middle truck in a three-truck convoy en route to Camp Edmonton. As it was passing a gravel truck, parked on the highway, Drinnan's vehicle struck the latter truck, causing his truck to roll over into the ditch.

Name Jean Clark To Nursing Post

Appointment of Miss Jean Clark, formerly of Calgary, as superintendent of district nurses for the provincial department of health was announced Wednesday by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and public welfare.

Miss Clark succeeds Miss Helen McArthur whose appointment as director of nursing for the Canadian Red Cross society was announced Wednesday. Miss Clark will take over her new duties Tuesday.

The new superintendent is a graduate in nursing at the University hospital. For a time, she was assistant superintendent of district nurses. A year ago she went to Baltimore and took a special course at the Johns Hopkins university. She returned to Edmonton in August.

The present assistant superintendent is Miss Sheila MacKay, who will continue in that post.

Tucker to Retain His Rosthern Seat

REGINA, (CP)—Walter Tucker, recently elected Saskatchewan Liberal leader, will retain his Rosthern, Sask., seat in the commons and devote his time until the next federal session to reorganization of provincial Liberals, it was decided here Wednesday night.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the Saskatchewan Liberal party executive.

Wheat Deliveries Up 700,000 Bus. Despite Alberta Farmers' Strike

Despite efforts of the Alberta Farmers' Union to prevent deliveries of all farm products, including grain, to markets, wheat deliveries in Alberta actually are almost 700,000 bushels ahead of 1945, according to a report of the Sanford Evans Statistical Service.

The survey based on daily reports from elevator agents to railway companies beginning Sept. 7—the day the farm strike began—to Sept. 21.

The following is a table showing deliveries in Alberta and in the three prairie provinces both this year and last year:

No Immediate Settlement In Farmer Strike Expected

By J. V. O'Neill

Consumers and distributors of farm produce in Alberta have little hope of an immediate settlement of the 30-day withholding strike of farm produce instituted by the Alberta Farmers' Union last Sept. 6, when their 20,000 members were joined by an estimated 30,000 members of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, in a demand that the federal government establish a board to determine parity price levels for agricultural producers.

Notwithstanding the length of statement from Agriculture Minister Gardiner, inviting both organizations to place their grievances before the Agricultural Prices Support board for government consideration, the withholding strike will continue at least until the end of the month, since it will take another week or more before balloting of locals on whether the strike is to be carried beyond the 30-day period is recorded and totals tabulated. This was the statement Wednesday by the A.F.U. President Grant Stimpfle.

"About 45,000," was Stimpfle's reply to a question of how many ballots had been sent out to farmer locals. He did not indicate whether the ballots had also been sent to strikers in Saskatchewan.

The ballot, without consecutive numbering or a system of registration, asks its members to mark their

Charge Russians Intercepted Ships

COPENHAGEN, (AP)—Crews of four Danish fishing cutters, returning from a fishing expedition in the Baltic, reported Wednesday they had been intercepted off the German coast by Russian naval craft, taken ashore and detained for several days. They were questioned, their vessels searched and "everything resembling weapons" thrown overboard by the Russians before they were released, the fishermen declared.

Tipped Gasoline; Children Burned

WANHAM—Suffering second and possibly third degree burns, David, two, and Denny, three, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sather, are reported recovering in the Spirit River hospital, 362 miles northwest of Edmonton. The Sather farm is half a mile south of Wanham which is about 10 minutes east of Spirit River.

The children were playing in the milk house when the accident happened. They had spilled a can of gasoline off a hand shelf. The gas spilled onto a stove in which a small fire was burning. An explosion followed, setting clothes on the children to catch fire.

Two-year-old David suffered the more serious burns and his condition is reported as still critical. He was burned about the hands, face and legs. Denny while also burned about the hands, face and legs is reported in a much better condition.

Housing League Head Arrested

OTTAWA, (CP)— F. E. Hanratty head of the Veterans' Housing league, was taken into custody by R.C.M.P. officers Thursday on charges of forcible entry and obstructing police. He gave himself up to police and was temporarily lodged in the city jail.

Hanratty George Bleakney, Ottawa, legal adviser to the V.H.L., appeared in magistrate's court Thursday morning on both counts and his case was adjourned to Oct. 4

This first legal action against the league, which has seized five buildings in Ottawa and housed nearly 50 families including 200 persons in the last three weeks, was initiated directly by the justice department, it was learned.

The forcible entry charges were laid in connection with the occupation of the W.R.C.N.S. barracks at H.M.C.S. Carleton and the former C.W.A.C. barracks at Lansdowne park last Tuesday night by members of the league. The obstructing charges were in connection with interference with three R.C.M.P. officers sent to protect government property at the naval barracks.

STRIKE IS ENDED

AMSTERDAM, (AP) — Work was resumed here Wednesday by 30,000 workers who walked out Tuesday in a demonstration against continued Dutch troop movements to Indonesia.

Province Pressmen Return to Work

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Members of the pressmen's union (A.F.L.) returned to their jobs at the Vancouver Daily Province Thursday after the union's Vancouver local which ordered them off the jobs Sept. 11 said the local had approved the move.

Twenty pressroom employes at the Province walked out Sept. 11 refusing to handle "struck" plates when ordered by the Vancouver local and then disregarded an order from international headquarters that they return to their jobs.

The Province suspended publication for three days but resumed Sept. 16 with a pressroom staffed by the management to have been approved by the international presidents.

Farm Strike Hits B.C. Fruit Markets

KELOWNA, B. C. (CP) — Okanagan fruit industry officials said Thursday strikes on the prairies and eastern Canada are causing a serious effect on the fruit marketing outlook.

The state strike has caused an acute situation. The shortage of vessels is so severe, officials said, considering purchasing aluminum nails even though they will add two cents to the cost of every box of fruit, or stop the picking of some types of fruit.

Officials said fruit sales in Alberta have been affected seriously because of the farmers' delivery strike.

Gets Year in Jail For Crash Deaths

PORT ARTHUR, (CP) — Police Justice Kelly of the Ontario supreme court Thursday sentenced Houghton Lotis, Port Arthur truck driver, to a total of one year in jail on charges of reckless driving and failure to remain at an accident.

Lotis' truck collided with an automobile at a Port Arthur street intersection last May 24. One man was killed instantly and two others in the automobile were fatally injured.

2-Cent Boost Likely As Subsidy Removed

Alberta consumers will be faced with higher milk prices beginning next Tuesday, as a result of the abolition by the dominion government of the 55-cent production subsidy. It was estimated unofficially Thursday that if prices go up two cents a quart, as expected, the extra cost will be about $700,000 a year in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat. For Edmonton alone the increase will be $340,000 a year.

G. M. Blackstock, chairman of the public utilities commission, said Thursday "There will be an increase in prices. That is inevitable."

The chairman said a new milk price order is being drafted and will be announced Monday. At the same time a decision on the producers' recent application for an increase of 80 cents per 100 pounds in milk prices also will be given.

Mr. Blackstock said he could make no statement at present as to the amount of the retail price increase.

The increase in Alberta milk prices will follow the federal government's final announcement Wednesday night that the subsidy of 55 cents per hundred to producers will be dropped Sept. 30. Strong representations had been made to Ottawa by the Alberta government and others to reconsider its decision announced earlier in the year to end the subsidy.

In a statement at the time, Premier Manning forecast that if the federal subsidy were abondoned it would mean an increase of perhaps three cents per quart in Alberta milk prices. The present price is 12 cents per quart.

The premier's forecast that if distributors also asked for a price increase, the advance might be three cents a quart.

"We have had no application from the distributors for a price increase," Mr. Blackstock said when queried on this aspect.

It was learned that there may be an adjustment in regard to the distance rate but this would not affect the milk price.

The distributors are anxious to obtain some adjustment from the board, it was reported Thursday.

Official figures Thursday showed that in 1945 Edmonton consumed 17,046,833 quarts of milk, compared with Calgary's 14,718,119 quarts. For Lethbridge, the consumption was 2,333,010 quarts. Figures for Medicine Hat were not available here.

The pending increase of milk prices in the four cities will be followed by similar action in other districts of the province, according to government officials.

Members of the public utilities commission, composed of Mr. Blackstock and Bruce V. Massie, were held recently in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, and Medicine Hat to hear the application from milk producers for an increase in prices.

Production Costs Up

The applicants contended that rising costs of production had forced them to seek a price increase for milk. Under the new law of the pending federal discontinuance of the milk bonus of 55 cents per hundred pounds, "inasmuch" considerations exist in some parts of the province have registered opposition to any increase.

Premier Manning expressed keen disappointment over the announcement that the dominion subsidy was to be discontinued.

"We pointed out in previous representations to Ottawa that we felt that of this kind which increases the cost of living for all of our people is an extremely serious matter at the present time," said the premier.

"We feel that the dominion government should have avoided this situation by continuing the subsidy at least for another year."

Tells Disappointment

Hon. D. Bruce McMillan, minister of agriculture, also expressed his disappointment over the federal decision.

"We had hoped that the entire subsidy would be retained and that if a change were made that the subsidy to "producers would not be cut more than 50 percent," said the minister.

Carl J. Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union now staging a non-delivery strike, said he "regretted the news."

E. H. M. Bailey, president of the Alberta Milk Producers' association, said the decision to abolish the subsidy was "contrary to the producer interest." He said producers had asked for an increase of 80 cents per hundred, "based on actual increased costs."

Mr. Bailey said he "rather thought the government would give a consumer subsidy instead of a producers' subsidy." He added that "production variables from province to province mentioned by a major assault may be launched upon this island.

"I now say in secret that upward of 1,000 self-propelled barges and more than 200 sea-going ships, some very large ships, are already gathering in the German ports under German occupation....

"Some of these ships and barges, when struck by our bombing counter-attack and preventive attack, have blown up with tremendous explosions, showing that they are fully loaded with all the munitions needed for the invasion forces and to beat us down and subjugate us utterly. The shipping space available and now assembled is sufficient to carry in one voyage nearly half a million men."

The two speeches, together with three others previously released, was published Thursday under the title of "Secret Service Speeches," the seventh and final volume of Mr. Churchill's war operations.

Registrations Mark Record at Varsity

Registration of more than 3,000 students at the University of Alberta by Thursday had broken all existing records. Registration will not be complete until next week.

In three days this week registration reached 2,638 with veterans outnumbering non-veteran students by nearly two to one.

G. B. Taylor, acting registrar, said that at the public level enrolled since official registration began Monday, 1,666 were ex-servicemen and women compared with 972 non-veterans.

The 2,638 three-day total added to the 143 medical students, 140 dentistry students and 160 education students who registered last week, brings the total enrolled on the campus to 3,048. More undergraduates were registering Thursday.

1,200 Wednesday

Twelve hundred students registered Wednesday. Of these, there were 1,101 upperclassmen and 99 freshmen registering late. The newest freshmen additions brought this year's class of new students to a record 1,234.

Some faculties reported that their freshmen registration this year alone was higher than the enrolment in freshman, sophomore, junior and senior years prior to the war.

Of the upperclass registrations Wednesday, 379 were in applied science, 386 in arts and science, 90 in agriculture, 84 in pharmacy, 90 in commerce, 26 in pharmacy, 34 in household economics, and 13 in law students.

Two largest faculties on the campus are arts and science with more than 700 enrolled and applied science with more than 650 prospective engineers registered. Education is not far behind with over 500.

Lectures Friday

First lecture bells will ring Friday at 8:00 a.m. and five minutes later every room in the main of the university will be filled. Changes have been made during the summer to provide additional lecture room space and schedules for laboratory periods have been drawn up to provide accommodation for all students. Labs will be running from early in the day until midnight.

Some students will have considerable distances to go to attend classes. Nearly 150 students are housed in single men's accommodation at the former U.S. air base and the province's training school in the former headquarters building. Women students are living in other huts for married students' suites.

Thursday afternoon, freshmen were attending a tea dance in the Normal school gym and Thursday night Dr. Robert Newton, university president, is scheduled to speak to new students.

Labor Body Won't Bar Communists

WINDSOR, (CP)—Canadian Trades and Labor congress convention Wednesday rejected a resolution which recommended barring members of the Communist party from executive positions in unions.

The resolution, proposed by the Victoria local of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, (A.F.L.) was opposed by the constitution committee which commented: "The political opinions of members of unions affiliated with the congress are the business of the unions concerned."

FOUR KILLED IN WRECK

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Four persons were believed dead and five others injured in an automotive and the first five cars of a Union Pacific passenger train went into the ditch 2½ miles east of here Thursday.

Huge Nazi Invasion Fleet Bombed In 1940, Churchill's Speech Reveals

LONDON, (AP) — Winston Churchill secretly told the commons in 1940 that the Germans had massed a gigantic invasion fleet of "upward of 1,700 self-propelled barges and more than 200 sea-going ships" in ports under German occupation.

The release Wednesday night of two hitherto unpublished speeches by Britain's wartime minister cast new light on a subject which has been argued for six years—did Hitler actually intend to invade Britain?

On Sept. 17, 1940, while the German air force raided London throughout the night, Mr. Churchill, elaborating on what he had said at an earlier public session, had this to tell a secret parliament meeting:

"I said just now... that the deployment of the enemy's invasion preparations and the assembly of his ships and barges is steadily proceeding, and that at any moment

Canada Will Sell Fruit, Eggs, Peas

By Richard Sanburn

OTTAWA—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced Wednesday night a new series of food contracts with the United Kingdom for a volume of Canadian produce that will require between 5,000 and 6,000 railroad cars to carry it to seaboard.

Fresh apples, fruit pulp, shell eggs, dried peas and beans, and perhaps tomatoes are headed for British menus under the new contracts.

The contracts will put something like 250,000 tons of fresh apples, 80,000 pounds of evaporated apples, 2,500 tons of raspberry pulp and 300 tons of prerunage plums.

Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba Ontario and possibly Quebec will combine to fill the contract for 274,000 bushels of dried white and yellow whole peas, and Ontario has also contracted for 560,000 bushels of dried beans.

A contract for the shipment of unspecified quantities of shell eggs has also been concluded, six prices ranging up to 47.75 cents a dozen for eggs from a large, fresh fall eggs. The contract provides for an increase of one cent a dozen for spring eggs and two cents for fall eggs.

Prime Minister King may have made it difficult for the federal government."

Provinces Will Get Milk Jurisdiction

By Richard Sanburn

OTTAWA—The government announced Wednesday night that the 55 cent per hundred subsidy on fluid milk will be abolished on Sept. 30, together with the 23-cent subsidy on "manufactured" cream, but that in making concentrated milk products.

As a result, all Canadian housewives are virtually certain to be paying more for their milk.

Prime Minister King made the announcement himself at the conclusion of a federal-provincial meeting, the second this week.

He said that the government might have considered continuing the subsidy temporarily if it would help the stability in retail milk prices. However, "after careful investigations" that even if the subsidy were continued consumers would demand higher retail prices, and several provincial milk boards were ready to grant the increases.

In 1945, the producer subsidy cost the federal government $12,671,000, and the consumer subsidy on fluid milk $8,866,000.

Milk prices went up two cents a quart when the government took off the consumers' subsidy some months ago.

A C Smellie, president of the National Dairy Council of Canada said consumers likely will pay "at least" two cents more for a quart of milk. He said there might be slight variations since "from now on price is a matter for provincial milk control boards."

MOSCOW RAPS CHURCHILL

LONDON, (CP) — The Moscow radio attacked Winston Churchill Wednesday night as the "mouthpiece of reactionary circles in Britain and the United States striving to disrupt post-war collaboration of the Great Powers."

Emil Sather Charged With Having 'Dope'

WINNIPEG, (CP) — Stewart Jacobs, 30, and Jacqueline McRae, 20, both of Toronto, were remanded without plea until Oct. 2 Wednesday when they appeared in provincial police court on a charge of illegal possession of narcotics.

R.C.M.P. who arrested the couple said they were in possession of 10,000 tablets of morphine and heroin with a market value of $50,000. It was the largest narcotics seizure here for some years.

Prepare Welcome Greek King Despite Growing Civil Strife

ATHENS, (AP) — The Greek government Thursday completed its plans for welcoming King George II back to his throne while fierce border fighting and civil strife in northern Greece which premier Tsaldaris said has reached the magnitude of war.

Athens will close down completely Saturday for the king's reception and police announced that all permits for carrying arms had been suspended.

Police said persons lining the route of the parade marking the monarch's return to Greece after five years of exile would not be permitted to circulate

(In London, a source close to the king, summoned home by a recent plebiscite, said the monarch's return was expected to stabilize the tense situation in Greece. He was expected to depart for Greece either Thursday or Friday.)

The army corps, meanwhile, was conducting virtual military operations to put down the rebellious opposition in Thessaly and Macedonia, the major trouble spots, although it was admitted that small British troops were dispersed in those areas there was no indication that they were in combat.

Informed British sources in Athens said the British forces were being reorganized and that one of the two divisions in the region was being withdrawn from Greece. The headquarters of Maj.-Gen. Crawford, commander of British troops in Greece, declined comment on a statement by a foreign office spokesman that the British forces would be used "in the last resort."

(In London, the pro-Labor Daily Herald said British forces would leave Greece "as soon as the necessary transport can be provided," and added: "The British government has made it plain that British troops cannot be used for dealing with the present internal troubles in Greece.")

Premier Tsaldaris blamed "foreign influences" for the fighting in Greece.

The press ministry said some of the 178 prisoners taken when military forces recaptured the town of Deskate, in western Macedonia, were Albanians and Yugoslavs.

(A Turkish spokesman in London, whose government has an army of 1,000,000 men, said Turkey was custodian of the Dardanelles, "is the only effective barrier against Russian domination of the Middle East").

Cabinet Expected Study Steel Strike

By John Bird

OTTAWA—A long-drawn-out steel strike, still far from settlement, will be among matters to be considered at a dominion cabinet meeting Thursday.

Only new development in the steel dispute was a lengthy resolution passed by the Canadian Congress of Labor at Toronto calling, among other things, for acceptance by the companies of arbitration on union security and demanding immediate reopening of negotiations.

Pittsburgh Trams Halted by Strikes

PITTSBURGH, (AP)— The Pittsburgh Railway company announced that all street car transportation service had stopped at 4:00 a.m. (est) as operators joined in a sympathy strike with 3,500 employes of the Duquesne Light company who walked out Tuesday.

The walkout left thousands of early morning riders without transportation. Normally the railway company services about 1,000,000 riders in the Pittsburgh area with 950 cars.

Meanwhile, at the request of city officials, the Allegheny county common pleas court dissolved a stern anti-trike injunction, a principal bone of contention in the power strike.

English Murderer Sentenced to Die

LONDON, (AP)—Neville George Clevely Heath, 29, was convicted Thursday of the murder of Mrs. Margery Gardner, 33-year-old film extra. He was sentenced to death.

The verdict was returned after an hour's deliberation by a jury of 10 men and two women.

Counsel for the flier had asked that he be found "guilty but insane" in the sadistic slaying.

Heath, a former R.A.F. pilot, also was charged with the murder of Doreen Marshall, whose horribly mutilated body was found near a south coast resort within two weeks of the Gardner slaying. The verdict made a second trial unnecessary.

THE DAY I DISCOVERED OXYDOL WASHES WHITE WITHOUT BLEACHING...

MRS. JOHNSON SAID—"THAT'S THE WHITEST WASH YOU'VE EVER HUNG OUT—OR MY NAME ISN'T CARRIE JOHNSON!"

MRS. NELSON SAID—"THAT TOWEL FAIRLY SPARKLES! DID YOU BLEACH IT?"

AND I SAID—"BLEACH IT NOTHING! I'VE FOUND A GRAND SOAP—OXYDOL—THAT WASHES SO CLEAN THAT EVERYTHING COMES WHITE WITHOUT BLEACHING!"

Oxydol is Far Ahead of Other-Type Soaps in Preventing "Dirty Grayness"

OXYDOL'S "Hustle-Bubble" suds are so lively, they lift out dirt. They even act to prevent those "dirty grayness" particles that form in wash water, stick in the clothes—then turn yellow or gray when you iron them.

Actual tests prove that Oxydol gets clothes cleaner and whiter than less-energetic soaps can ever hope to do. All your white things—except for unusual stains—come White Without Bleaching.

Yet Oxydol is really safe for washable colors and rayons. Get Oxydol now—for a wash so clean it's White Without Bleaching.

vote with an "X" and is in two parts. It reads:

"Please answer these two ballots separately. These two ballots will be counted separately. The first one is to determine how the membership feel toward continuing the non-delivery strike after the 7th day of October, provided our requests to the dominion are not met or satisfactory negotiations in progress. Make sure you vote for No. 1."

"Yes or No" Question

Spaces for "yes" and "no" are provided in the No. 1 ballot on the question, "Are you in favor of continuing this strike after the 7th day of October, 1946."

Similar spaces to be marked with an "X" are provided on the second question asking, "Are you in favor of allowing all cream, milk for cheese factories and condenseries, and eggs to be processed and held under bonded agreement in storage for duration of strike?"

Also in the second ballot is the question, "Are you in favor of stopping all inspected fluid milk entering cities, except to hospitals etc? (This milk is not processed).

Government Rejects Demand of Farmers

By Richard Sanburn

OTTAWA — The government Wednesday night turned down the demand of the striking Alberta farmers for a fact-finding board on parity prices for agriculture, because the government said that such a board already exists and is functioning.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner made this announcement of government policy on the Alberta farm strike after Wednesday's cabinet meeting. He is sending complete and detailed replies to C. J. Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, and F. T. Appleby, president of the United Farmers of Canada in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Gardiner told the striking farmers that the Agricultural Prices Support board, under the chairmanship of J. G. Taggart, was already in existence and that it was just such a fact-finding board as the strikers were asking.

Letter Quoted

In short, the government has told the A.F.U. to make its representations to this existing federal board. Mr. Gardiner's letter said:

"In order that we may have your co-operation in solving farmers' problems, I trust your organization will follow the practice of other sections of the organized farmers and arrange through the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, or directly, to have your views placed before this board for consideration, analysis and presentation to the government."

Mr. Gardiner also spoke of the commodity boards set up under the War Measures act, the Meat, Dairy and Special Products board. Provision had been made for such boards even if the present authority for their existence expires.

"These commodity boards are not only defining but administrative, and have been and will continue at least while we follow the plan of entering into bulk contracts, to assist in maintaining adequate price levels for farm products," he wrote.

Authority Provided

In addition, he said, the Agricultural Prices Support board with the consent of the government had authority to prescribe prices at which the boards might purchase agricultural products in the market, and also to pay producers the difference between the prescribed price and the average market price, if the market price was lower.

Further, the act provided a $200,000,000 revolving fund to carry out these functions if necessary.

Thus, the board had power to do far more than the farmers were asking, and the farmers should make use of the board rather than ask the government to set up duplicate machinery.

Mr. Gardiner admitted that there might be a difference of opinion as to what adequate farm prices might be, and "parity" was a subject for argument. Nevertheless, he told newsmen, the prices board said recently that Canadian farm prices were nine percent above "parity."

A.F.U. Officials Prepare "Full Reply" to Charges

Officials of the Alberta Farmers' Union said Thursday they were preparing a "full reply" to charges by the Alberta Federation of Agriculture that the farmer-strike was only hindering efforts of farmers to obtain "parity prices."

Commenting on the charge, one official at A. F. U. headquarters said "the general opinion is that the Alberta Federation of Agriculture does not speak for Alberta farmers on the same basis as the A. F. U."

As the strike neared the end of three weeks of activity, a report from Dawson Creek said a delegation of the village commissioners, senior Chamber of Commerce and the junior chamber had been refused a request that farm produce be allowed into the town.

The delegation argued that since every organization in the town had given their support to the strike in letters and telegrams to Ottawa, the farmers should co-operate by allowing produce to enter the town. But the farmers refused to allow this.

In Saskatchewan C. T. Gooding, manager of the Saskatchewan Dairy Pool, and C. G. Angell, wheat pool field representative, told a meeting the pools were in "sympathy" with the farmers' demands, but would not back the strike.

The meeting, attended by about 100 persons and held at Smithville, said in favor of the delivery strike, but added a clause that milk marketing should be allowed.

Given Four Years On Morals Charges

CALGARY, (CP) — Peter Kroshewsky, 19, Edward Jennings, 24, and Harry Silberg, 19, were sentenced by Mr. Justice Shepherd Wednesday to four years each at Prince Albert penitentiary on morals charges.

Chief witness was a 15-year-old girl who said she had run away from her home at Red Deer and met the three.

Man Returns from Dead after 20 Years

Mrs. T. D. Stribling, 32-year-old housewife, is shown as she was reunited with her father, William M. Houghton, of Vancouver, at her Dallas, Texas, home after being separated since 1915 when he joined the Canadian army and was reported killed in action. His next visit will be with his other daughter, Mrs. Georgia Mercades, of San Francisco. Shortly after Houghton's Canadian buddies reported him "shot to bits," his wife collapsed and died in a San Francisco hospital. The two little girls were adopted and their names changed. Happy reunion ended a 30-year search for his family.

Expect No Serious Danish Competition

COPENHAGEN, (CP) — Canadians who visited Danish farms in recent weeks have left with the conclusion that the dominion need not fear price or quality competition from this source.

The farming ability of Danes and the efficiency used in developing land, herds and produce command respect, but Danes as much as Canadians face new problems, added expenses and changed markets.

Wages paid Danish farm help in 1945 were 106 percent above 1939 while prices have risen about 96 percent. The old free-and-easy days of farming when laborers worked from dawn to dusk are gone. New agreements will provide for a 54-hour week from March 1 to Nov. 14 and 48 hours for the rest of the year, and an unmarried herdsman will be paid at least 2,170 kroner ($435) for six months from May 1 to Oct. 31 and a lesser amount for the November-April period. But, in a period of abundant employment help usually costs more than the national minimums, farmers say.

Danish farmers say they envy Canada where tractors and similar labor-saving machinery can be obtained, even if in limited quantity. None is available here and only seven percent of the 209,680 agricultural holding have tractors, 13 percent combustion engines and 14 milking machines.

Canadians were impressed with Danish dependence on imported feed. Imports cut off during the five-year German occupation and agricultural recovery must await their restoration. Higher costs are almost certain, no matter where the feed is bought.

This feed shortage was a major factor in slashing Danish production. Taking 1938 production as 100, output in 1945 was: milk 79, butter 70, cheese 125, beef 82, bacon 58, eggs 43.

Britain Aroused Over Air Crashes

By Frank Swanson

LONDON.—Public anxiety has been aroused throughout Britain in recent weeks following a series of air crashes, costing the lives of 197 persons.

Although the accidents happened at such widely separated parts of the world as Newfoundland, Hong Kong, Paris and Copenhagen, the fact they took place within such a short space of time has aroused nation-wide comment.

Some of the crashes involved military and some civil aircraft but majority were caused by use of obsolete equipment.

The London Daily Mail Thursday said in column-long editorial that the crashes have given the public an idea that flying is still a dangerous adventure, no matter in what part of world it is made. This is most definitely not so, the paper goes on to point out.

Accidents have a habit of coming in cycles and the cumulative impression is one of a disproportionate element of risk the Mail says. "If these recent disasters are set against the vast background of air travel today the ratio of fatalities to the total of passenger miles flown is very small indeed.

"If the public does not get the aircraft it wants, people will not fly. What they want are safety, regularity and speed."

Coal Mines Report More Men Needed

WINNIPEG, (CP)— A report issued Thursday by the prairie regional employment office here indicated 10,000 men will be needed in the Port Arthur area for forestry and logging next winter. There are 3,000 present vacancies.

Coal mines at Red Deer, Edson, Lethbridge and Drumheller, all report need for men and gold mines in the Geraldton, Ont., district are producing only 50 percent of potential due to labor shortages.

C. C. L. at Impasse On C. C. F. Issue

TORONTO, (CP) — After three more hours of bitter debate the sixth regular convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor was adjourned at noon Thursday still at a stalemate on the issue of re-endorsation of the C.C.F. as the "political arm of labor."

The session was followed a two-hour session Wednesday. About 20 delegates already have spoken on the controversial question with at least 10 more have asked President A. R. Mosher for that privilege. Decision on the political action resolution is not expected until late Thursday.

Soon after the debate started Wednesday it was obviously a three-sided issue between supporters of the C.C.F., the Labor-progressive party and the no-connection-whatsoever belief.

Substitute Resolution

Basis for argument was a substitute resolution to reaffirm the C.C.L. political action program and to urge the political action committee to make constructive amendments to the program as necessary. It is a substitute for 11 political action resolutions submitted to the convenion by C.C.L. affiliates.

(The congress two years ago endorsed the C.C.F. but leftist elements in the organization abandoned the official policy and tended to support the L.P.P.)

C.C.F. supporters maintained today that party still came closest to the aims of labor. L.P.P.-minded delegates said C.C.L. endorsation of the C.C.F. has resulted in no political action by labor. And the third section of the congress advocated independence of any political tie as the surest method to obtain concessions for the working masses.

Resolutions Passed

The congress in resolutions Wednesday:

Requested enactment of a national collective bargaining act to outlaw company unions, provide union security and make it an offence for employers to dissuade or discourage formation of unions;

Demanded completion of an agreement similar to dominion-government proposals made at the recent dominion-provincial conference.

Went on record as favoring establishment of non-profit co-operatives and petitioning the government to exclude them from income taxes.

Sees Fear of War As 'Common Enemy'

HALIFAX, (CP) — Canadians must "defeat the common enemy today, which is fear of war with all its national and international complications" in the same way they had met the challenges of war, Transport Minister Chevrier said Wednesday in an address to a joint luncheon meeting of the Canadian club and the Halifax Board of Trade.

He stressed the idea that transportation was "the important link" in improving domestic and world relations. It had been largely responsible for Canada's present status and now must serve to unite the country as never before.

Harvest Trains Rolling Eastward

WINNIPEG, (CP) — They may lack the romance of the silk specials and the hauteur of the crack trans-continental fliers, but in the nation's economy the harvest trains now rolling east through Winnipeg will take to a siding for no one.

Night and day, almost every hour of the 24, a locomotive pulling 65 or 70 cars laden with the wealth of Canada's prairies grinds to a stop in one of the Winnipeg district yards of the country's two great railway systems. The annual grain movement to the lakehead is on.

The magnitude of the movement and the wealth it brings directly or indirectly to Canadians is in direct ratio to the size of the crop. This year's estimated wheat yield of 440,000,000 bushels and coarse grain harvest of 567,000,000 bushels isn't the greatest ever. But it ranks well up.

Not all the grain moves east, of course. A good part of it—the dividing line is in western Saskatchewan — normally is exported through Pacific coast ports. A comparatively small part goes through the Hudson bay port of Churchill, Man. But much of the rush is to the lakehead—the great terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur.

At the peak of the 1946 rush—and that's just about now—the Canadian Pacific Railway expects to be handling 16 trains daily eastbound and the same number trundling empties back west for refills. The 65-70 cars to a train stretch half a mile. Some days the total may reach 4,500 cars with perhaps 3,000,000 bushels of grain.

The Canadian National's expectations are about the same although feeding more northerly—and therefore later threshing—areas as they do, the full movement is not yet under way.

Neither railway expects any major shortage of rolling stock to develop.

Already the headaches are developing. With more than 5,000 cars of grain in the lakehead terminals of the C.P. and C.N. earlier this week, both railway and elevator officials found themselves hard pressed to unload them and provide room for the continuing influx. Some of the elevators were beset by lack of labor.

But by the time snow flies and Great Lakes navigation closes, Canada's lakehead grain "cupboards"—bare this year because of last year's low crop and heavy exports—will be overflowing again.

New South Wales Key Voting State

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP) — The big eastern state of New South Wales, which fills more than one-third of the 75 seats in the Australian house of representatives, is regarded as the key to Saturday's general election.

As the campaign winds up, the Labor party, seeking re-election after five years in office, is concentrating its attention on this state in which it is estimated there are about 1,700,000 voters and which, in 1943, elected 21 Labor members among 28 representatives it sent to the federal house.

The Liberal and Country parties, working together for the defeat of the Labor government, also are giving close attention to New South Wales in the hope of regaining at least six of the 10 seats they have lost to Labor there since 1940.

Two seats believed impossible for them to regain are Macquarie, held by Prime Minister Chifley, and Barton, represented by the external affairs minister, Herbert Evatt.

When returns start to come in after the polls close at 8:00 P.M. Saturday, political wise men will watch a handful of eight divisions for the trend which they anticipate will be reflected elsewhere in Australia.

The divisions contain practically all types of Australian population, well-to-do pastoralists, big and small farmers and businessmen, trade unionists as well as a scattering of miners, and all types of housewives among the women voters who outnumber the men in Australia.

They are concerned with all election issues—taxation, extended social services, fixed price schemes for primary producers and the overriding question of a Labor or a non-Labor government at Canberra.

Says Air Defences Must Be Strong

BUTTE Mont., (AP) — Gen. George C. Kenney, United Nations military chairman, declared Tuesday night that a third world war would find Canada an immediate battleground and warned that if this country's air defences were inadequate "there is a possibility that the United States could be knocked out of action in 24 hours."

At a convention banquet of the Northwest Aviation Planning council, the general warned that although progress has been made toward insuring world peace, this nation must be constantly alert to defend itself.

Ask Elimination Peacetime Censors

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Recommendations for strong action to promote world freedom of information and elimination of peacetime censorship were placed Tuesday before the national commission on educational, scientific and cultural co-operation.

These and other suggestions on the use of press, radio and motion pictures to promote international understanding were made by a committee of state department consultants headed by Edward W. Barret, editorial director of Newsweek magazine.

Say Shipbuilding Is 'Being Scuttled'

TORONTO, (CP) — Maritime workers charged Wednesday at the sixth regular convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor that the dominion's shipbuilding industry is being scuttled by the purchase of old vessels from other countries and by foreign construction of ships intended for purely Canadian trade.

The convention referred to the incoming executive a resolution that the dominion government be pressed for legislation ensuring maintenance of the shipbuilding industry and providing the "highest employment level possible." The resolution was submitted by the Nova Scotia Federation of Labor and the Union of Maritime Marine Workers in Halifax.

A resolution by the same organization endorsing establishment of a Canadian coast guard service also was referred to the executive.

James J. O'Connell, Union of Marine and Shipwrorkers, Halifax, said establishment of a coast guard is "urgent on the east coast and, I think, on the west coast, too, for the fishing industry and general coastal trade of this country."

G. K. Bell, Maritime Marine Workers, Halifax, said obsolete United States ships were being sailed in the Great Lakes under Canadian registry.

"They are 40 or 50 years old, a menace to navigation. They put in jeopardy the lives of the Canadian sailors asked to man them."

Dr. David Shugar Will Stand Trial

OTTAWA, (CP)— Magistrate Strike Tuesday decided there was sufficient evidence to warrant committing Dr. David Shugar, former anti-submarine detection expert, to trial on a charge of conspiring with members of the Soviet spy ring to communicate secret information to Russia.

He will be committed next Tuesday, when the date for trial also will be set.

Dr. Shugar once before was charged with conspiracy in the espionage activity but the charge was dismissed for lack of additional evidence. He was re-arrested on the same charge on the basis of additional evidence in the final report of the royal commission on espionage.

The name of "Shugar" appeared in telegrams sent to Moscow by the head of the Russian spy ring operating in Canada, Igor Gouzenko, former Russian embassy cipher clerk, testified Tuesday.

Gouzenko, who fled the embassy last September and turned evidence of the ring's operations over to Canadian authorities, was giving evidence at the preliminary hearing.

It was Shugar's second hearing on a conspiracy charge. He appeared on a similar charge early in the espionage inquiry and was dismissed for lack of evidence. He was rearrested after publication of the final reports of the royal commission on espionage.

Gouzenko said the telegrams mentioning the name of "Shugar" were destroyed at the Russian embassy.

He then identified various documents which he had taken from the embassy containing the name of "Shugar" in connection with tasks being assigned to members of the spy ring.

In one instance he said, "Shugar" asked for more detailed information about what was wanted.

Warns Reds Seek Upset Democracy

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Arthur B. Langlie of Seattle, former Republican governor of the state of Washington, charged here Tuesday that the Communist party plans to "upset North American democracy" and seeks to introduce a "dictatorship of the proletariat."

Within the next two to 10 years this freedom of ours is going to be challenged as never before," he told delegates to the Pacific Northwest district Kiwanis convention.

"The danger is not today but when the great consumer demand has been exhausted, when we have to cut down production and when we are hard put to maintain our high social benefit policy."

He charged that Communists have been instigators of labor strife, that they have fanned inter-racial hatred, and plan disruption of economic life through support of government spending programs and opposition to stable financial plans.

Mr. Langlie said that the Communists plan, finally, to step in with their "police forces" when disruption, disunity and chaos were complete.

"Crystallize your views to support our democracy," he told the Kiwanians in calling for unity in meeting the "challenge to freedom."

Car Production At Post-War High

DETROIT, (AP) — General Motors' passenger car production last week touched a new post-war high with the production of 27,374 units, topping the previous 1946 high, achieved in the last week of August, by nearly 2,000. For the week ended Sept. 14, car output was 23,345 units. Production last week was affected by 39 supplier strikes in the United States and 18 in Canada.

TANK INVENTOR DIES

LINCOLN, England, (CP) — Sir William Tritton, 71, knighted in 1917 for his leading role in the invention and development of the military tank, died Tuesday. He built the first model secretly in 1915. Lord Kitchener, then war secretary, called it "a very pretty mechanical toy." The idea of a tank hal been put forward by H. G. Wells.

Why Soap is Scarce

A correspondent of The Edmonton Bulletin has suggested in the letter column that machinery be set up to collect surplus fats from the public, as in wartime, so that the makers of soap might increase their supply to the retailers and thus alleviate the current shortage of that vital commodity.

Soap, however, is not scarce because of any shortage of fats and oils. Soap manufacturers are not turning out their full production because they lack one of the other constituent of soap, the alkalis.

They are getting as much fat as at any time in the last six months but the supply of soda ash and caustic soda has been sharply cut in the past few weeks by strikes at two chemical plants in the east. The Canadian Industries Ltd. plant at Windsor produced half the caustic soda made in Canada.

The fact that laundry soaps are in shorter supply than hand and bath soaps is because they have a higher alkali content.

Some merchants have pointed out that the soap shortage in some parts of the country would be less acute if restraint were exercised by some of their customers. It is said to be the case particularly in the East that customers will frequently purchase a few bars at a time are now trying to purchase by the case.

Voluntary conservation seems to offer the only present relief.

The Stalin Interview

Premier Stalin's published interview on world affairs is very timely. It could be taken as meant to clear away misconceptions and put people in the democratic countries straight on the basic ideas of Russian foreign policy: They will hope that this is the correct interpretation.

The general principles which Mr. Stalin lays down as the foundation of policy are not only unexceptionable; they are the principles which also shape the foreign policies of the democratic states. The interview thus serves the purpose of making clear that there is fundamental agreement between the declared aims of the Soviets and those of the western powers.

Mr. Stalin says he does not think there is any real danger of another war. That is a disclaimer with which it is easy to agree. Whatever the directors of Russia's pushful plans abroad may want, no one can suppose them to be planning to bring on another carnival of slaughter and destruction. And certainly no other government is aiming at such a goal.

The atomic bomb, the Premier says, can be left out of the calculation, because it will be prohibited as a weapon by joint action of the United Nations. That expectation is universal.

The Soviet chief does not think it would be possible for the western powers to "encircle" Russia, and "is not convinced" that they want to. He could have stated the conviction in positive terms, for the western powers have no such intent and have given no cause to suppose they had. They could have no such desire within bonds of reason, unless as a defensive measure against threatened Russian aggression.

Mr. Stalin declares it to be his "unconditional belief" that Russia and the democracies can co-operate in friendship despite their ideological differences. The democratic peoples and governments believe that too. In fact they know it to be true if Russia will deal with them as they are dealing with Russia.

The Soviet Premier states plainly that he does not plan to build up Germany "against" the western powers; that this would be a departure from basic Russian interest; and that the problem is to demilitarize the Reich and make it a democratic state. This also is common ground; that Germany should be rebuilt as a peaceful and eventually independent country, not as a threat to the east or to the west.

This interview sounds a good deal like a list of general instructions handed out by the Commander-in-chief for the direction of the Russian peoples also, and in particular for the guidance of M. Gromyko and his associates in the councils of the United Nations.

The important matter is not what Mr. Stalin says but how far Russian moves in and out of the council chambers are brought and kept in line with the views he expresses and the purposes he proclaims. If he means that diplomatic conduct and propaganda activity are to be revamped in keeping with these principles, there should be less friction hereafter and more progess in the herculean job of steering the nations out of chaos and back into the ways of useful production and peacetime living.

Not Just a Freak

The "flying windmill" is a funny looking contrivance. When one of them blew into Edmonton several years ago it excited plenty of interest and amusement, but as a vehicle for going places and transporting goods it impressed nobody. It came straight down and went straight up, yes. As a demonstration that the thing could be done it left no doubts. But, so what?

Well, the helicopter showed "what" the other day, when it dropped down in the Newfoundland bush twenty miles from Gander and took out 18 survivors of the wreck of the Belgian airliner. There were plenty of other planes about, but for extricating those marooned and injured people they were of no more use than pigeons. If there had been a runway — but there wasn't.

The helicopter doesn't set any speed records, nor any pay-load records. But when it is a case of getting down to the ground and up again without any runway, it is the only type of plane that can do the trick. And — as was found during the war — when men have to be picked off a raft or out of a life boat in rough water, that is a job which the helicopter can do and other planes cannot do.

This of course the men in the armed services found out long ago. Now civilians know it too, better than they ever knew it before. The "windmill" will not rank any more as only or mainly a curiosity. It has shown that in certain circumstances it is the only aerial ambulance and rescue plane that can get to the scene of an accident and out again.

Those physical circumstances are spread across Canada's hinterland from the Atlantic to the Pacific and clear down to the Arctic. We are likely to get better acquainted with the helicopter and its capabilities.

Better Success Next Time

The Security Council, meeting at Lake Success, N.Y., cleared its agenda, but the delegates were only mildly jubilant at reaching the end of the session. For the reason that what they had accomplished was largely negative and preventive, not constructive.

The last item of business was M. Gromyko's proposal that the Council call for a detailed statement of the troops and bases which United powers are maintaining in friendly foreign territories. This was voted down seven to two, Russia and Poland being the only supporters.

This closing incident was characteristic of the course of the proceedings. On practically every issue of importance the delegates found themselves divided along the same line of cleavage; the Soviets versus the democracies. And with the Soviets taking a stand which, from the democracies' stand-point, did not look like promoting harmony.

This illustrates the timeliness of Premier Stalin's statement of basic Russian policy. His aim apparently was to counter the growing impression that co-operative action was hopeless. This defeatist inference he flatly contradicted. That should somewhat lighten the gloom of the Council members as they look back at the series of disagreements — some of them leading to hot exchanges — which make up the record of the past week.

Perhaps when the Council meets again the delegates of the western powers will find their Russian colleagues less inclined to see bogeys all round the horizon. That is to be ardently hoped.

There is no surprise in the news that the Bulgarians voted in overwhelming majority to establish a republic. Carol and Madam Lupescu made that predictable, aside from Russian influence or abstract preference on the part of the voters.

HOW TO TORTURE YOUR HUSBAND -:- by Webster

This is High Country

By BRUCE HUTCHINSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

This is high country. From the back of a cayuse you can look down on a hundred square miles of brown range land, on a score of little green patches where the last alfalfa crop is being cut and then, to the east, you can see the first waves of the Rockies and, to the west the dark barrier of the coast mountains. You are a mile high here and the air is spiced with pine and juniper and the sharp tang of the British Columbia autumn.

It is round-up time and the best cattle, who have roamed the upland meadows and the pine woods all summer, lift their white faces, sniff the cooling breeze from the north and begin to drift slowly down towards the home range and the bulging haystacks.

This is high country as we know it in Canada, the country of the Hudson's Bay fur brigades who came up the Okanagan Valley to Fort Kamloops, the country of the gold miners who stayed on to plow this earth, to bring water to it from the hills and watch the sage brush turn into flat fields of hay and grain. It is the country of big ranches, of sprawling log barns, of great poplar trees planted by the first settlers long ago, of gurgling irrigation ditches—a soft, wrinkled, velvet country under the clear upland moon.

It is the country of the Cornwalls who came out from England in the sixties, bringing their fox hounds and their red riding coats with them, who learned to wear chaps and ride the range on cow ponies, who could preside at Government House in Victoria, but found the open land better.

Henry Cornwall is still here, the son of the first generation—an old man now, who likes to sit under his rustling poplars and watch his cattle on the hills and the grandchildren who will inherit them. And yarning with him in the golden autumn weather, listening to his stories of the old days, of Indian killings, stage coaches and train robberies, you forget the modern world altogether, and the echoes of its wrangling, the explosions of its bombs, cannot penetrate the mountain passes.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Henry will tell you of great cattle drives on the Cariboo Road and up from the Chilcotin lake to Kamloops; of Bill Miner who held up the C.P.R. train near here (a fine fellow, Bill was considered by Henry, but with a deplorable boy's passion for train robbing, who always carried an egg in his pocket for good luck and would take it out and look at it thoughtfully during his trial); of Judge Cornwall, Henry's uncle, who tried to teach the cowboys to hunt coyotes like English foxes but could never make them shout "Tallyho!" (They always yelled: "There goes the Son of a So-and-So!" galloped wildly across the range and ruined the hunt, until the judge became lieutenant-governor in disgust.)

Henry and men like him have somehow contracted here a love of piety of their own, a little isolated world secure beyond the limits of another world, whose growing insanity they have watched with a faint and tolerant interest. It is a society built entirely on beef and beef is built on winter feed of clover, timothy and alfalfa, and hay so is built entirely on a few streams of water trickling down the hillsides.

Water is everything here, more precious than gold, more valuable than machinery and every drop is conserved, damned up, guided into the tiny patches of irrigated land and governed by ancient leases issued to the first ranchers. Given water, this barren soil surges up in growth, alfalfa makes three crops a year, stunted poplars and men will buy their beef in the fall. grow into giants, apples grow scarlet and juicy in September, cattle wax fat and succulent and the dinner table is heavy with steaks and vegetables.

It is a calm and the special civilization which grows with it have bred also a special kind of man like Henry. Nothing disturbs them, nothing alters the clear and sunny weather of their minds—not even drouth or blizzard or ravening grasshoppers, and least of all the convulsions of the cities behind the hills. For they know that snow will fall this winter, and pile up in the timber, and thaw in the spring, and bring new life into the summer fields, and the cattle will breed,

If city folk like us come to ride the range and fish the lakes and eat at Henry's bountiful table, it is all right with him. Presently they will drive away again, on the new paved highway and the cattle country will be the same as when Henry was a boy. No one can alter it. Nature and the water supply have fixed its shape forever. Always there will be sleek beef tramping their little parallel trails upon the hillsides, green haylands beside Cherry Creek, and an old man sitting under the poplar trees, wondering why the world beyond the mountains has gone mad, but quite untouched by its madness.

Today in Europe

ATHENS—Greek Premier Tsaldaris has returned to Athens from Paris, where he has been presenting Greece's case at the Balkan conference, and from London, where he has been discussing with King George II of Hellenes the plans for the King's return to Greece. Shortly after the Premier's return I had a long talk with him. It was the first time he had met. He struck me as having much in common, both physically and temperamently, with Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

Four main problems await Tsaldaris' attention—the handling of the King's return, reorganization of the government, the revolt in Macedonia, and the economic situation, which is still grave.

The King's return is a comparatively simple matter. He was not voted out by his people. Therefore, his return is not likely to lead to restoration of the monarchy. It's merely a resumption of the form of government interrupted by the German invasion. There has been no break in the form of the Greek Constitution. On the contrary, the monarchical form of government was reaffirmed by a large majority in an election which, whatever its defects, probably was the most fairly conducted election in any Balkan country.

All the same, the King's return raises a number of questions of some delicacy. Clearly, he must unite all the Greeks and modernize his people. Thus, he must set his face as firmly against the right-wing terrorists supporting him as against the Communist terrorists opposing him. At the same time, he must act as a truly constitutional monarch, without thereby becoming a political cypher. The King certainly has a great role to play, and one that may be decisive for the future happiness of his people. Premier Tsaldaris has the prime responsibility of advising the King how best to play his difficult role.

Tsaldaris' Populist Party has a clear majority over all other parties in the Greek Assembly. In one sense, there's no need to broaden the base of the government. But there's a fairly widespread feeling that the return of the King would be a good moment in which to associate all possible moderate forces inside the administration.

With the exception of the Communists and two insignificant parties, the republic forces which opposed the return of the King have now accepted the result of the plebiscite. These latter include Socialist leader Papandreou, the first Greek Premier after the liberation, the 85-year-old Liberal leader, Themistocles Sophoulis, and Sophocles Venizelos, leader of the right-wing Liberal Republicans and son and political heir of Greece's World War I leader. The inclusion of some or all of these well-known political figures in the Tsaldaris government would obviously be in the interest of Greek unity. Some of them certainly are anxious to take office and Tsaldaris would welcome them provided they didn't demand too high a price for their support.

Momentarily, the Greek Army and gendarmerie are undertaking fairly large-scale operations against Communist bands in northern Thessaly and around Mount Olympus. These bands are under the

The Road Ahead

By HARPER PROWSE, MLA
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

Just after the war in Europe ended there were some nasty stories going around about startling discoveries made concerning the disgraceful collaboration of certain individuals and corporations while the war with the Axis was on. There have been hints of this in various publications and references to it in many news stories. I, myself have heard reports of it from a person who had no reason to exaggerate or repeat falsehoods, and who was in a position to know certain pertinent facts.

Most of us assumed that in due time the guilty persons would be charged and tried by a competent court. To date we have tried certain war criminals, whose fate was obvious from the moment of victory. The public has had its revenge on certain unpopular figures in most European countries. But so far, the allied nations, have not taken any overt steps to bring our own war criminals to justice.

When the German resistance collapsed and the Allied troops swarmed into Germany they were followed closely by teams of competent technicians and professional men whose job it was to go in to German business and industrial offices to sieze not only technical information, but all documents which might be of value. Among the documents, I have been informed, was found evidence that certain large corporations with cartel connections were not only trading with the enemy during the war but were actually guilty of giving to the enemy technical information which was of great assistance to them.

If this be true, as I think it is, then somebody should be called to answer. Surely it is as great a crime for an industrialist, no matter how wealthy he may be, to give information to the enemy as it is for a filing clerk or other minor government official or citizen of the country to give information to a country which happens to be an ally. It is important that all suspects should be charged, and, if found guilty, sentenced according to the enormity of their crimes.

Because no action has been taken or any statement made, regarding these things by any of the allied governments, the rumor is now going around that the reason it has been "hushed up" is that some of the persons concerned occupy such important positions of trust that the scandal which would result would not be in the public interest.

I cannot conceive of this being the case because I cannot think of any person, or group of persons, who are so important that they are above the laws of the land—any land. And yet official silence tends credence to this vicious rumour.

Somebody in the government knows the answer to all this. It is high time in the public interest that a full statement be made. The tendency for officialdom to consider that some facts should be kept secret in the "public interest" is a grave threat to our freedom in democracy, any kind of democracy, governments and all their agents are the servants of the people. The public has a right to know all the facts it needs to know. The public should demand to know the truth about these things.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

WRATH TO COME

Editor, Bulletin: In summer, why bother about winter? While well fed and sheltered, why worry about the hungry and homeless? Why dread destruction whilst all is serene? Why talk of war in time of peace? Killjoys are unpopular.

Six years of war has wearied us and we detest the thought, the very memory of it. Guarding against the possibility (not to say imminence) of another is so unpleasant that frivolity is the common reaction to that suggestion.

The more serious-minded perceive and realize the facts. In all recorded history the world is said to have known only 200 years of peace. Today, hostile thoughts, expressions, attitudes and preparations prevail both internally and internationally. Peace is intolerable except upon one's own terms, which means that the only peace that confronts us is that found in graveyards.

The warfare of two years ago is obsolete. Atomic bombs are antiquated. They destroy too much property! Germs, and radio-active gases are more efficient. They take life and consume the carcasses of whole populations like so much vermin but preserve their machines and habitations for the invader.

That prospect lies just ahead of you and me. If that is what we want we need only ignore it. If we wish something better we would be well advised to bestir ourselves — but quickly! We positively must live together — or else.

RUSSIA AND WAR

Editor, Bulletin. — Once again the straw boss of the United States shows his colors when it is delightful to hear him say that the U.S. is being led down the road to war—and, as usual, by dear old England's imperialistic policies. But the world failed to notice that Mr. Wallace did any shouting while the Japs were murdering 4000 prime young American men at Honolulu and Pearl Harbor. But the men of Britain have their hearts and souls set on something finer and nobler than the quack-quacks of the U.S. Russia and the whole world knows Britain's word can be depended upon.

Sees Slim Hope of Rescuing U.S. Airmen Held As Slaves

CHICAGO, (CDN) — American fliers reported being held as slaves by the savage Lolo tribe in China have a slim chance of getting out alive, a Chicago missionary who spent 28 years in China believes.

The Lolos, having no idea of what an airplane is, or any conception of the rest of the world, probably look on the fliers as slaves dropped into their yards by the gods, according to Miss L. Emma Brodbeck, who is now visiting relatives here.

"Whether the American fliers are ill-treated depends on themselves," she said. "They would be forced to do manual labor.

"If they accept the work, they'll get along. They might even be taken into families. The Lolos are generous with their daughters—there's no limit on the number of wives a man may have.

Miss Brodbeck said the situation of the Lolos in China would be comparable to a tribe of wild Indians living in some uncconquered mountains in the United States.

They are physically large intelligent, and fierce. They carry on a continual warfare with other Chinese tribes. Raids are made repeatedly to carry off slaves.

"As long as we don't do anything, the fliers are safe," Miss Brodbeck believes.

"If they have survived this long, they probably have built up immunity to diseases, and become accustomed to the food and living conditions.

"If we sent marines in to rescue them, the Lolos might kill the fliers. The marines would have a hard time finding them anyway."

Miss Brodbeck thinks the fliers may be assimilated into the tribes.

There's only one tribal custom that will be pretty hard to take. It's an old Lolo superstition that nobody washes his or her face for weeks on end during planting season.

"The dirt has to be chiseled off after a month or so," says Miss Brodbeck.

Troopships Sail As Dutch Protest

AMSTERDAM, (Reuters) — Two troopships left Tuesday night with 3,600 soldiers for the Netherlands East Indies in spite of a protest strike and a downtown demonstration in which 20 persons were injured.

The ships sailed without interference after police fired on demonstrators in a city square, the Netherlands News Agency said.

An official 24-hour strike of municipal workers spread Tuesday night to steel workers at Ymuiden, North Sea harbor of Amsterdam, and to reconstruction workers and aircraft workers at a factory and an airport.

Sees Bad Effect On Export Trade.

REGINA, (CP) — Labor difficulties resulting in decreased production were affecting Canada's vital export trade, Robert Rae, general manager of a large Canadian banking concern said Wednesday.

Mr. Rae stressed the importance of multilateral trade by Canada and that the dominion must export to maintain a fair standard of living. He is on a tour of western Canada.

He said that if the international fund under the Bretton Woods agreements is not made effective and U.S. tariffs against Canadian goods are not lowered, Canadians should "reduce our purchases from U. S. sources."

Canada in 1939 had an unfavorable trade balance with the U. S. of $116,000,000 and a favorable balance with Great Britain of $127,000,000, he asserted.

He said Canada's indebtedness to Great Britain at the end of 1945 was $900,000,000 compared with $4,466,000,000 in 1939.

Eire Wants More Canadian Wheat

DUBLIN, (Reuters)— Eire will seek 350,000 tons of wheat from Canada and the United States this year, compared to her normal imports of 150,000 tons, informed sources said Tuesday.

A serious wheat situation has arisen from abnormal fall rains which may have destroyed one quarter of the country's grain crop.

Sean Lemass, minister of industry and commerce, has organized 5 bread-rationing plan and 3,000,000 rationing books are ready for printing at short notice. It was learned. Bread rationing would mean a reduction in Eire's food exports to Britain because diet alternatives would have to be supplied.

(In Winnipeg, grain men, commenting on the announcement, said the Eire government probably had turned to the U.S. because her wheat was available before Canada's.

(During the war Eire had purchased Canadian wheat through the British food ministry and had been a "good customer." Her purchases had fallen off, however, when Canada's carryover dropped to a low level and Canada found herself unable to supply all the nations seeking wheat.

(Unless an agreement were signed between Canada and Eire, any purchases by Eire would be at the world price, at present $2.10 cents a bushel.

Indigents Get Hospitalization

REGINA, (CP)—Indigents on relief rolls will come under Saskatchewan's new hospitalization plan to start Jan. 1, 1947, Premier Douglas said Wednesday.

The municipal, provincial or federal government responsible for their maintenance will pay the $5.00 tax required of every individual in the province, he said. Maximum tax for one family is $25. Collections start Oct. 1.

Those exempt from the tax include: veterans receiving hospital benefits, old age and blind pensioners, mother's allowance recipients, and Indians.

U.K. Gives Italy Surplus Materials

ROME, (Reuters) — Britain is handing over surplus war materials valued at 8800,000,000 to the Italian government, it was stated Tuesday. "The price has not yet been fixed, but in line with Britain's policy of giving Italy a helping hand, it will be a purely nominal figure," said Brig. A. I. Nixon, chief disposal officer.

Stresses Affinity Farmers, Workers

TORONTO, (CP)—The delivery strike of the Alberta Farmers' Union "has quickened the farmers' conscience to the similarity of labor and farm problems," Andrew Hebb of Toronto said Tuesday at the sixth regular convention of the Canadian Congress of labor. He represented the Co-operative Union of Canada.

Mr. Hebb outlined the work of Ontario co-operatives and said the Ontario Farm Products Marketing act had caused frequent comparison of farm and labor needs.

The act gave producers collective bargaining, a check-off and a kind of closed shop. Thirteen commodities now were under the act.

"No one can rake and market a hog, for instance, except under the scheme at a price set by collective bargaining between the producers and the processors. That, in effect, is a closed shop. There is a small deduction from the sale price of every hog to cover cost of operation of the scheme and producer association expenses. That is the check-off."

Price Controls Endorsed

The congress adopted a resolution urging maintenance of price controls. It read:

"That representations be made to the federal government in an endeavor to have legislation enacted to provide that control over retail prices be continued to guarantee that the living standards of Canadian people will be improved and maintained."

Other resolutions adopted urged:

Provision of penalty overtime pay for employes who worked on statutory holidays.

Legislation reducing working hours of firemen.

Wage Policy Sought

Establishment of a wage policy covering all dominion government employes whereby wages paid to crown employes will favorably compare with employes doing similar work in private industry.

Government consideration of the appointment of labor attaches in view of Canada's expanding position in external affairs. (This resolution asked that the attaches be selected from lists prepared by the major labor organizations).

Regirtrar Won't Count Strike Vote

TORONTO, (CP)—W. H. Lovering of Hamilton, Wentworth county registrar of deeds, will take no further part in the "back- to-work" vote being taken among employes of the Steel Company of Canada, Attorney-General Blackwell announced Wednesday.

Mr. Lovering previously had agreed to count the ballots mailed to him by the steel workers.

The attorney-general said his department had told Mr. Lovering that it considered that he, as an official of the administration, should take no part in a labor dispute except with authority of the appropriate department.

(It was announced in Hamilton later that Dr. J. H. Holbrook of Ancaster, Ont., and G. C. Serrie of Hamilton were named to count the ballots in Mr. Lovering's place.)

The company had last week sent a letter to each employe with a ballot on which the worker could indicate if he were willing to return to work. The votes were to go to Mr. Lovering for tabulation.

"The department of the attorney-general had not been consulted by anyone as to the propriety of an official of the provincial administration undertaking the task of acting as returning officer in the proposed vote," Mr. Blackwell said.

Threaten Boycott Control Agencies

WINDSOR, Ont., (CP) — The Trades and Labor congress Wednesday threatened to boycott government wage control agencies unless action is taken to check price rises and ease wage controls.

A resolution which won almost unanimous support from delegates demanded:

1. Immediate rolling back of prices to January, 1946, levels.

2. A public campaign against unwarranted profiteering and price increases.

3. Elimination of wage controls, with the exception of minimum wage standards, and tightening of price control.

4. Government action to end "the slowdown strike of industrialists in their effort to boost prices to gain further concessions from the government and to squeeze labor, as demonstrated in the recent shutting down of production by management for many months in textile, rubber and steel."

5. Immediate action by the government to attain full production and remove the threat of inflation.

Co-Pilot Causes Airplane Accident

SHANNON AIRPORT, Eire, (Reuters)—An investigation into the crash of a Pan-American Constellation aircraft here Tuesday has found that the accident was caused by a mistake on the part of the co-pilot, it was announced Wednesday night.

The plane broke its back with 26 passengers aboard. One passenger required hospital treatment.

"The accident was caused by the co-pilot of the clipper inadvertently operating the lever controlling the main landing gear rather than the lever controlling the landing flaps," the investigators reported.

THURSLEY, Surrey, Eng., (CP)—Sgmn. Alman B. Hughes, 40, of Toronto told a court martial Tuesday that during 1,092 days A.W.L. since Aug. 23, 1942, he never listened to the radio, read a newspaper or knew that D-Day had arrived and what had happened to Canadian troops in northwest Europe. He said he "never left London" during his absence "and kept myself by buying and selling things." The court's findings on a charge of desertion will be promulgated.

French Oppose Unifying Reich

By Paul Ghali

PARIS, (CDN)— The French have decided not to permit German administrators in the French zone of occupation to attend the Bremen conference scheduled to open in a fortnight.

This conference has been called by the British for the purpose of discussing unification of the British and American occupation zones of Germany.

The French move is in line with the longstanding French policy of opposing any attempt purporting to lead to the centralization of Germany under German political organization. And behind it are seen internal political motivations.

For example, President-Premier Georges Bidault, though holding less uncompromising views on the subject than Charles de Gaulle, wants to avoid risking attack by the general, just a month before general elections.

Australian Wool Prices Increase

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP)— After a seven-year wartime interruption, Australia's wool auctions are in full swing again with international buyers bidding for the country's latest clip.

In the sales just resumed in Sydney about 90 percent of the Australian wool crop, amounting to about 3,000,000 bales averaging 300 pounds each, will be knocked down at prices which may add up to $250-000,000."

So far French and Belgian accents have predominated in the bidders' chorus that has shot prices as much as 50 percent higher than the scale fixed under a British Commonwealth agreement.

During the war, most of Australia's wool, representing about one quarter of world production, went to Britain at prices fixed by expert appraisal.

Opening bids in the big 50-year-old wool room at the Sydney Royal Exchange were so far above the appraised prices that woolmen figured Australia could auction off its new clip for about $60,000,000 more than last year's yield of $190,000,000 and $2,000,000 more than the record 1943-44 yield.

35 Pints of JELLY from one box of B.C. CRABAPPLES

Here's kitchen economy that goes hand-in-hand with quality. One box of Okanagan Crabapples now at your favourite fruit counter, will give you 30 to 35 pints of sparkling jelly to bring colour and appetizing flavour to your breakfast table.

Preserved Crabapples are becoming increasingly popular, they take a minimum amount of sugar and the taste is intriguingly different. Process them by the open kettle method which gives a product like the crabapple preserves made by your grandmother. Don't break off the stems, our grandmothers always preserved them with the "tails on."

Ever Try SWEET PICKLED CRABAPPLES?

HERE'S THE RECIPE

PICKLED CRABAPPLES

3 cups vinegar
1 cup water
2½ pound brown sugar
¼ cup mixed whole spices (tied in a bag)
7 pounds B.C. crabapples.

Make a syrup of the sugar, vinegar and spices, boiling 10 to 15 minutes. If the crabapples are very hard, steam them for 8 to 10 minutes before adding to the syrup. Whole cloves may be stuck in the fruit, if desired.

Cook slowly in the syrup until tender. Put the fruit into hot sterilized jars and if necessary boil down the syrup before adding to the fruit. Seal. Store at least one month before using.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

It seems rather odd that Edmonton appears to be the only major city in Canada where football is not played and encouraged in city schools. Can it be that officials in charge of student athletics in Alberta's capital are justified in their attitude toward that great autumn sport?

If the stand taken in Edmonton is the correct one, then it naturally follows those holding similar positions in hundreds of other urban centres throughout the Dominion and elsewhere on the continent, are out of step.

In Calgary, for example, school football has been an institution for several years and a feeder for the junior league, a three-team circuit which functioned even during the war period. Dick Haughian, in charge of recreation in the Foothills City, even coaches one of the junior clubs.

All Operate School Leagues

High school leagues are operating in both Saskatoon and Regina and the same situation exists in Vancouver. Thousands turn out to see school teams play in Winnipeg and of course it has been a big game in Ontario and Quebec for decades.

In Edmonton the so-called six-man variety has been limping along for several seasons. The boys probably play it, not because they like it, but simply because they are not permitted to engage in the real thing.

Experience in other centres appears to discount any possible theory that football is a dangerous sport. As a matter of fact, on the authority of two veteran high school teachers in Edmonton, injuries are more likely to occur in the six-man game, simply because the players do not have sufficient protective equipment.

It seems to be common knowledge that in the case of both public and high schools in this city, there has been an official tendency in recent years toward discouraging all forms of competitive sport, track and field even included.

Helps High-Bracket Stars

The Sporting News points out that high-salaried stars, such as Joe DiMaggio, Charlie Keller, Hank Greenberg, Mort and Walker Cooper, and others who might be asked to take salary reductions, doubtless will benefit from the club owners' agreement to limit pay cuts to not more than 25 per cent of the amount a player received the previous season.

Under provisions of the new clause, Greenberg, who is reported to be getting $60,000 this season could not be forced to accept less than $45,000 for next year. The only alternative is to offer the player his release.

Bob Feller's all-star group will commence the barnstorming tour with Satchell Paige's colored boys in Pittsburgh on Sept. 30, winding up on the Pacific Coast late in October. Then, accompanied by Charlie Keller, Mickey Vernon and another pitcher, Bob will travel to Honolulu for a special exhibition series. The bonus arrangement in Feller's contract is expected to net him $70,000 this year.

Reds Like Sportsman's Park

St. Louis Cardinals have had difficulty with Cincinnati at Sportsman's Park all season. Although holding a 14-8 edge over the Reds during the year, six of the eight losses have been sustained on their home diamond.

Cardinal batting slump seems to be continuing for they collected just seven hits last night and only in the ninth when Terry Moore (likely ahead of Joe Garagiola) double did the St. Louis brigade get more than one hit in an inning.

Brilliant pitching which has been carrying the club along in recent games was missing. Bucky Walters put on the show for the Card fans who turned out to the tune of 22,557 hoping to see their team assume a game and a half lead, which practically would have clinched the pennant.

LEAVE US MAKE SWEET MUSIC FOR THE DODGERS, improvised symphony orchestra makes with sweet music rodgers—Hot race between Cardinals and Dodgers calls at Ebbets Field. Bums now trail the Cards by one game, for biggest, best and loudest horns, drums and cymbals as with three to go.

Close Flag Chase Not New In Majors

NEW YODK, Sept. 26—(BUP)—Today it seems to be everyone's guess that the feuding Brooklyn Dodgers and Saint Louis Cards are going right down to the wire for pennant honors in the National League.

This kind of a garrison finish has more or less been the order of the day in major league baseball for a long, long time.

Last year, you'll remember, Hank Greenberg's grand slam homer in the final game of the season, played against Saint Louis, gave Detroit the American League pennant and second-place Washington a headache.

THE 1943 season was fairly sane in both leagues, but the 1942 national league race was the real thriller—and it involved the same two clubs that are fighting it out today, the Dodgers and the Cards.

When the smoke finally cleared the Cards had won the pennant by trimming Chicago in a twin bill on the final day, Brooklyn won 104 games that year but the Cards were a wee bit better—they won 106.

IT'S THESE thrilling finishes that give bleacher bugs their afternoon thrill and can managers the willies." Down through the years a wild pitch, failure to touch a base, a killing double play, a grand slam homer or an umpire's decision have won and lost pennants—yes, and world series, too!

For instance, in 1908 Fred Merkle —first baseman for the Giants—forgot to touch second and it cost the New Yorkers a national league pennant.

MERKLE'S "boner" came in the bottom half of the ninth inning of the game against the Chicago Cubs and with the score tied at one-all. With two away, Merkle was on first and another Giant runner was on third. The next hitter—Al Bridwell—singled to centre. The man on third raced home and Merkle, ignoring second base, made a wide turn of the bag and dashed for the dugout.

Johnny Evers, Chicago infielder, retrieved the ball, stepped on second and demanded that the umpire rule Merkle out and to erase the run that had scored from third.

The ump—Hank O'Day—twin bill on up Evers' claim and took the run away from New York.

SPECTATORS stormed the field in protest and refused to leave. The game officially was declared a tie. Later it was played off when the Giants and Cubs finished in a dead heat for the pennant. This time er on the Sox team—and has fielded his position to match.

SOPHOMORE Bill Ingram, sturdy half, is back at University of Alberta this fall and will be taking part in Saturday afternoon's game at Clarke Stadium between Calgary Juniors and the Golden Bears. Starting time of the game is 2.45 p. m.

BROOKLYN, clinging tenaciously to its chance at the big play-off, boasts only one infield star of acknowledged magnitude, shortstop Pee wee Reese, and he is about as good as they come.

Dodger fans will die swearing that their second baseman, Eddie Stanky, is the best in the world, but they might be accused of prejudice. At first and third the flock is little better than minor league.

Only Needs Seven for Record

BOB FELLER CLOSE TO STRIKEOUT MARK

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—Bob Feller moved into a commanding position in his bid to surpass Rube Waddell's listed strikeout record of 343, fanning 10 Chicago White Sox to boost his season total to 337, but the Sox beat Cleveland Indians 4-1 in an American League tilt with Joe Haynes allowing five hits and Feller four.

NEEDING ONLY seven more strikeouts to surpass Waddell, Feller is scheduled to hurl portions of the games against Detroit Tigers Friday and Saturday and the full game against the Bengals Sunday.

The Indians' final home game of the season was a free-gate affairs presented by president Bill Veeck and drew 12,800 fans.

WASHINGTON Senators increased their fourth-place lead over the idle Chicago White Sox by sweeping both ends of a double-header from Philadelphia Athletics. The Senators won the first game 6-3 although Roger Wolff allowed the A's 11 hits. They took the second 7-4 with Dutch Leonard getting credit for the victory.

Pitching one of his best games, Joe Dobson turned in a four-hitter for a 5-2 verdict over Clarence Marshall and New York Yankees, as Boston Red Sox registered their 103rd victory and finished competition against the Bronckies for the year, with 14 won of 22. It was Dobson's 13th success against six lost.

Choice of Players Gottselig's Problem

REGINA, Sept. 26 (CP) — Coach Johnny Gottselig didn't know which way to look when the largest assortment of puck chasers in Chicago Black Hawks' training record bustled up and down the Queen City Gardens Wednesday as the National Hockey League team opened its nine-day pre-season grind.

"What are we running anyway? Two teams or two leagues," he said adding that there were 27 amateurs in the camp, with a total of 67 players expected to check in by today.

BUT THE HAWKS' coach did take a good look at big Leo Riese, Kansas City Pla-Mor star last season. Gottselig picks him as definitely N.H L. material this year.

The choosing otherwise will be no easy matter, he said, citing six good men battling for defence positions. Those besides Riese who put on the pressure in the workout this afternoon for the two coveted positions were Eddie Wares, Reg Hamilton, John Mariucci, Ralph Nattras and Aud Priestlay.

THREE WEST COAST amateurs who caught Gottselig's eye were Bennie Bathgate, Al Pringle and Walt Dorosky. The first two played in Vancouver and Dorohoy was a New Westminster forward last season. A winger and an extra forward are on the "next" list.

No member of the old Bentley-Bentley-Mosienko line has yet appeared but the coach is unruffled He believes they can whip into shape in short order

GOTTSELIG AVERS that it will be a young team with defenceman Reg Hamilton the "dodderer" at 34 years of age.

Although Gottselig declared tonight he thought he was coming down with a cold following six chilly hours in the gardens watching his crew hustle through training paces, his heart was warmed by the fine showing of newcomer Jim Jackson of Windsor, Ont., and Bill Gadsby, powerful Edmonton junior.

Bucky Walters Jolts St. Louis

Leaders Remain Game Ahead; Brooklyn Upset by Phillies

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Bucky Walters, sore-armed Cincinnati veteran who hadn't won a game since he beat St. Louis Aug. 17, shut out the National League-leading Cardinals last night 6-0 on seven hits, leaving the Red Birds one full game ahead of Brooklyn.

Presented with a golden opportunity to drape the Dodgers over the ropes after their afternoon 11-9 loss to the Phillies, the Cardinals blew their chance before the mystifying slants of the 36-year-old right hander.

WALTERS GAVE manager Bill McKechnie "retiring" as Cincy skipper after the game, a neatly-wrapped going-away present that was a serious jolt to St. Louis world series plans.

The Reds hopped on starter Murray Dickson for three runs in the fourth inning and picked up three more unneeded scores in the ninth off relievers Alpha Brazle and Teddy Wilks in their final Sportsman's park appearance of the season.

With the Dodgers and Cards each having only three games to play, the National League race was assured of going right down to Saturday for decision and there was a strong probability that the winner would not be known until Sunday night, the final day of the season.

THE DODGERS blew up in a night-marish ninth inning against Phillies who scored five runs to win before 22,245 dumbstruck Brooklyn fans.

The Dodgers used eight pitchers, a record for the National League, and tying the American League standard made by Washington in 1913.

Roly Keil Heads Theatre Bowlers

Employees of Edmonton theatres opened their 14th annual bowling league Wednesday morning, with 14 teams signed up for the season. All teams were out to do their stuff, but the scores are definitely subject to improvement.

New officers are Roly Keil of the Strand- President; Fred Broadbent of the Capitol- vice-president; Mel McLean of the Capitol- secretary; Audrey Cutler of the Malite- treasurer and Connie Gibson of the Capitol- press.

Everything points to a good year of bowling and competition will be very keen with prospects of winning the silver trophy and valuable prizes for the high rankers. All managers and general staff are members of the league.

Hawks Make Deal With 'Peg Rangers

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26 —(CP)— A three-year-agreement between Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League and Winnipeg Rangers junior team, under which the NHL club will sponsor the local team was concluded here yesterday. Rangers' minor league network, including Ranger juveniles and excelsior midgets and bantams, are also in the deal.

The agreement was concluded during a stop-over here of Hawks president Bill Tobin. He was en route to his club's training camp at Regina.

The amount of financial support Chicago will give Rangers was not revealed.

Tobin said that Hawks had relinquished arrangements with Moose Jaw Canucks but will continue to sponsor Edmonton Canadians.

CARDS' INFIELD IS HIGHLY RATED

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—The bulwark that has enabled St. Louis Cardinals to stick in the National League flag race despite a series of unhappy experiences including raids by the Mexican League is a staunch, tightly-knit infield that gives away few runs and provides the club with a great deal of its punch.

If the Redbird quartet finds itself in the world series next week it will suffer little by comparison with the set of sluggers who helped Boston Red Sox make a runaway of the American League, even though the latter group includes two such fearsome swatters as Johnny Pesky and Bobby Doerr.

THE CARD infield contains the National League's (and maybe baseball's) greatest hitter in first-baseman Stan Musial (.368); the league's best third-baseman in Whitey Kurowski (.302); and the stringbean who for some seasons has been known as "Mr. Shortstop," Marty Marion.

Against this fine trio the Red Sox offer the game's outstanding second baseman in Doerr, who has knocked across 115 runs through Tuesday's games to average .272, and the stocky little Pesky, who still is clouting a terrific .337, has made 200 hits—more than any other play-

NAVAL CUSTOMS AND TRADITIONS No. 7
THE WHISTLING COOK — Whistling in a man-o-war has always been strongly discouraged for obvious reasons. Custom ordains, however, that the Cook of the Mess shall whistle when stoning plums or peeling onions in duff. This proves he is not stowing his own hold at the expense of his messmates!

News From District Points

New School Costing $60,000 Is Opened at Lac la Biche

LAC LA BICHE.—Held in conjuction with the Alberta Teachers' association convention, the new $60,000 school was officially opened here recently. Hon. R. E. Ansley, minister of education, turned the key that officially opened the new school doors.

Convention sessions were held in the Memorial hall with invocation given by Rev. Father J. E. McGrane. Teachers and guests were welcomed to the convention by H. Benetza, chairman of the Lac la Biche A.T.A. local.

Other Speakers

Assembly also was addressed by Mr. Ansley and by Lieut.-Col. W. Cromb, commanding officer of the Edmonton regiment, who recently returned from Berlin. Other guest speakers were Eric Ansley, newly elected general secretary of the Alberta Teachers' association and John W. Barnett, the retiring secretary.

The assembly moved from the Memorial hall to the new school. The keys were presented to the minister of education by N. Mouille, chairman of the local board of the enlarged school division. A group of school children sang "O, Canada" after which the minister opened the school doors. The public was then taken on a tour of inspection through the school.

Modern Design

One of the most modern in design the school is an asset to the community. Because of shortage of material it has been a long time under construction but many difficulties have been surmounted. Although the school is not absolutely complete nevertheless the essentials are installed and the school is operating on a full schedule. John Rule of the firm of Rule, Wynn and Rule, Edmonton architects who designed the building, represented his firm.

Many other visitors were present including members of the Athabaska school board. L. Broughton is the local inspector who has been kept quite busy during the past months of construction.

A banquet was tendered distinguished visitors and teachers of the district. The banquet was sponsored by the A.T.A. and the board of trade. Dr. W. Cadzow, mayor of Lac la Biche and president of the board of trade, was official host.

Funeral Services For S. T. Borgen

DAYSLAND.—Resident here for 24 years, funeral services were held recently for Syver L. Borgen who died at his home at the age of 6 years. He had been ill for some time.

Mr. Borgen was born at Benson, Minn., and was employed by the civil service at Moorhead, Minn., for 1 years. He move to Canada in 1918 and spent five years in Saskatchewan as a grain buyer.

He was employed by the U.G.G. here at the time of his death.

Funeral was conducted at the Dayaland United church with Rev. E. B. Brundage officiating. Hymns were given by Mrs. O. Gillespie.

Pallbearers included W. Griffis, M. Gutowski, R. Hanrahan, Spiller Houghton and B. Holmlund, of Ferintosh. Honorary pallbearers were fellow grain buyers.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Grace Mosier and one son, Thomas of St. Paul, Minn.

Burial was in the Dayaland cemetery.

Rogan and Miller have been selected to represent their club in the provincial grain judging finals to be held in Edmonton on Oct. 17. Judges highly commended the club members for their splendid work during the summer.

Report Mineral Rights Sold at Elk Point

ELK POINT. — According to a report received by the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, mineral rights to the salt beds found near here have been sold to a Montreal firm. There was no report of just what development will be undertaken.

Salt beds were found by the Anglo - Canadian Oil Co., when drilling for oil east of Elk Point. They are believed to be at least 750 feet thick and consist of both the Vermilion formation and the McMurray formation.

Second well drilled, only a few rods away from the first, was found to contain not only the salt but a flow of natural gas. This flow is estimated by company officials to be no less than 3,000,000 cubic feet per day.

A third well is being drilled in the Spring Park area. When this is completed a fourth will be started in the Ferguson Flats area.

Elk Point chamber is negotiating with Drilling Contractors Ltd., to drill a gas well close to Elk Point to supply the village with natural gas for heating and cooking.

Edmonton Bulletin

Phone 26121 EDMONTON, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1946 Page Nine

Owing to strikes and widespread shortages of building materials, 35,000 homes now under construction in Canada under the National Housing Administration program will be uncompleted by November, Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, CBE, DSO, vice-president of the Central Mortgage Corp., administrators of the National Housing program, said in an interview here Wednesday.

FORMER quartermaster general for the Canadian Army, Maj.-Gen. Young said that an extensive organization has been established to "expedite" the housing program in the Dominion.

Regional setups, aimed at decentralization, have been established in B.C., the prairie provinces, Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes. Branch managers have been appointed in each region, the general explained.

"THESE regional managers will expedite handling of applications for housing loans, with each branch manager having authority to decide on loans up to a certain figure. Larger loans will go before the regional headquarters in Winnipeg," the general said.

A total of 1,500 applications for housing loans was approved in Alberta this year to date.

Central Mortgage Corp. is largely a co-ordinating agency for housing. Although allocation of materials come under the department of reconstruction, the Central Mortgage Corp. has the recommending of priorities.

"I AM INTERESTED in community planning of housing projects and am sponsoring this movement," he said.

In Edmonton Maj.-Gen. Young inspected various government housing projects in progress here and declared them to be proceeding smoothly where shortages of materials have not retarded progress.

He visited Premier Ernest Manning and Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of economic affairs and discussed housing with the Alberta government officials.

THE HOUSING official left for the east Wednesday night.

Contracts Are Let For Highway Work

Standard Gravel and Surfacing Company of Calgary has been awarded the contract for regravelling the second section of the Calgary-Drumheller highway, it was announced Wednesday by Hon. W. A. Fallow, provincial minister of public works.

The work on the 40-mile section to Drumheller is to start at once and should be completed this fall.

James Fitzgerald of Edmonton obtained the contract for the southern half of the project, linking with the Trans-Canada Highway. Total cost of the graveling is estimated at $100,000.

Tenders are being called on other roadwork Mr. Fallow said.

Think Stolen Car Used by Bandits

City police were investigating Thursday the possibility that a car, a 1929 sedan stolen from the Lesville garage, 7704 104 street Sunday night, might be the car used by the men who held up the Jasper Place branch of the Bank of Toronto Monday, escaping with $700. License number of the car is 5-720.

PERSONS WHO witnessed the escape by car of the bandits, say that the description coincides with that of the stolen car.

A good description of the gunman who entered the bank has been gleaned from reports given by several people who claim they saw him.

He is thought to be between 28 and 30 years old, and slightly over six feet in height, of good build with round heavy shoulders and a round full face, fair complexion and large hands. He is believed to be left handed and speaks with a quiet voice with no noticeable accent.

AT THE TIME of the robbery, he was wearing a brown suit, brown felt hat, blue shirt, three-tone striped tie, light colored gloves and dark sunglasses.

The weapon used in the robbery is believed to have been either a 38 or 45 calibre automatic pistol which was carried in a shoulder holster or inside coat pocket.

City Livestock Dealer is Dead

Well known city livestock dealer, Percy Saunders, 7450 82 avenue died in a city hospital Thursday. He was 59 years old.

BORN IN Devonshire, Eng., he came to Edmonton in 1911. He is survived by his wife, one son, Kenneth, Clarendon; one daughter, Mrs. Vivienne Payne, Edmonton; one brother, Frank living in the United States; two sisters, Mrs. Frank George, Lloydminster and Mrs. W. Maggs, England and two grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held at Hainstock and Son funeral chapel at 2 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Canon W. Vainby officiating. Burial will take place in Mount Pleasant cemetary.

Vets Provided Extra Service

In order to expedite documentation for veterans attending the University of Alberta, and to insure that DVA allowances will be ready for the veteran when pay - day comes around, the counselling staff of the training division of DVA has volunteered to work nights, without reimbursement. University veterans desiring interviews after hours, are urged to telephone 29281 extension 38. In addition to this service, two rehabilitation boards are sitting continually to finalize the proceedings initiated by the counsellors.

Approximately 180 processes are involved in the manufacture of a pair of shoes.

Murder and Suicide Probed at Inquest

Open verdicts were brought in by a coroner's jury at an inquest Wednesday into the deaths of Mrs. Bernice Miller, 40-years-old of 12377 95A street, axe murder victim, and her alleged slayer, 79-year-old George Melnychuk, 10032 105A avenue, whose body was found in the North Saskatchewan river eight hours after the murder took place Saturday morning.

Excitement was caused at the hearing by Emil Miller, Edson bus-band of the woman, who was at Edson at the time his wife was murdered. Mr. Miller announced that he was convinced that Melnychuk had not committed the crime and stated that he believed that it was one of the other members of the party.

He stated that Mrs. Miller had been supplied with liquor although her name was on the "black list." She spent about $160 in the two days before she died, he testified.

THE JURY in its verdict did not name Melnychuk as the murderer. They stated that Mrs. Miller came to her death by a slash from an axe in the hands of a person or persons unknown. Cause of death was given as a fractured skull, inter-cranial hemorrhage and shock.

Cause of Melnychuk's death was given as drowning in the North Saskatchewan river.

Mrs. Miller's body was found about 2 a.m. Saturday in the room of Alex Wolchak, 10032 105A avenue, when Wolchak entered to retire. She was lying in a pool of blood with a deep gash through the left side of her head.. A blood stained axe was found leaning against the dresser in the room.

THE BODY OF Melnychuk was found about eight hours later by Detective J. McMurray and Constable R. Hooper between docks about 100 yards below the Low Level bridge.

An argument between Mrs. Miller and Melnychuk was described by Wolchak, chief witness at the inquest, who stated that the two had quarrelled over two dollars Mrs. Miller failed to return after purchase of a bottle of beer. This statement was corroborated by other witnesses who had been present.

WOICHAK said he had been washing clothes in his room when Mrs. Miller dropped in saying she was tired and wanted to lie down. She then said she was hungry and asked if Woichak would get her some food. As he left the room, Woichak said he saw Melnychuk sitting in the dark in his doorway across the hall from the room in which Mrs. Miller was lying.

Previously, he testified, he had heard Melnychuk ask Mrs. Miller for $10 she owed him on a former occasion for the purchase of liquor. She had replied that maybe she would pay him the next day.

When Woichak returned with the food about ten minutes later, he found Mrs. Miller dead and immediately left the house. He saw Melnychuk a few houses down the street and ran after him.

"I SAID, 'Come back you have murdered a woman,'" Wolchak told the court. "All he said was 'Never mind what I do. I know what I do.' He then struggled with me in an attempt to stop him, but was unsuccessful and returned to the house to arouse the other roomers. "I didn't fight with him much because I was afraid he might kill me." Woichak explained.

The jury questioned Woichak as to his inability to hold a 79-year-old man and Woichak explained that Melnychuk was a large man and extremely agile for his years.

FURTHER EVIDENCE revealed that the party at the rooming house started about 9 a.m. Friday when Mrs. Miller appeared with a case of beer. At different periods during the day, more was added.

Bill Gryshia, another roomer in the house testified that he had been with the party earlier. Mrs. Miller and Melnychuk had gone upstairs together about 10 p.m. and Gryshia retired shortly after. Although he overheard the adjoining room to that in which the crime was committed he stated that he heard nothing until awakened by other roomers.

After the statement of the dead woman's husband, William Ferbey, the landlord, was called to the stand. He stated, "since my son paid a fine for bootlegging a while ago, I have been no liquor in my house". He admitted that Miller had told him that Mrs. Miller was on the interdicted list.

A QUESTION of spectacles worn by Mrs. Miller was left unanswered. Ferby testified that Mrs. Miller had been wearing glasses at his supper party, the evening of the crime. Mr Miller, however said that he had found them along with her watch and a bank book at his home when he returned to the city.

Dr. F. A. Keillor, presiding coroner, expressed dissatisfaction that a post mortem had not been performed on Melnychuk. However Detective William McDonald explained that chief coroner E. A. Braithwaite had pronounced death due to drowning.

OTHER WITNESSES giving testimony included members of the city police force, Mike Kalanidra who had been present at the drinking party and Dr. J. M. Macgregor, who had performed the post mortem on Mrs. Miller.

Members of the jury were P. W. Jean, William Hogan, M. A. Kinley, James Edgar, W. Schultz and Leo Killoran.

City Population Given as 109,997

Edmonton's population is 109,997 according to the Dominion five-year census taken this year by the Dominion government. This is an increase of 11,180 over the figure for 1941.

The civic census this year gave the population as 114,976 as against 111,745 for last year.

New Govt. Plane In Service

GOVERNMENT PLANE TAKES OFF: Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works on Wednesday took off from Cooking Lake on the first official trip made by the recently-purchased Alberta government Norseman airplane. The minister was heading for the Norman Wells area to inspect United States machinery left in the area on completion of the Canol project with a view to acquiring it for provincial use. The top picture shows the plane at Cooking Lake before the take-off. At the lower left Maury Keith, air engineer, is shown loading supplies into the rear of the plane and at lower right is Mr. Fallow as he prepared to step into the plane.

For the first time since it underwent a thorough overhaul and reconditioning job, Alberta's new provincial government Norseman aircraft Wednesday morning became an airborne. Perfect autumn weather marked the take-off.

AT THE CONTROLS of the sleek monoplane was a veteran bush pilot, Joe Irwin, who for more than a decade has flown over some of Canada's most rugged terrain. The passengers were the Hon. W. A. Fallow, provincial minister of public works; the air engineer, Maury Keith, Edmonton, and John Barber of Lethbridge.

The party was joined during the course of the flight from the seadrome at South Cooking Lake, 20 miles from Edmonton to Norman Wells, by O. B. Lassiter, contractor for the soldier settlement land-breaking project in the north country.

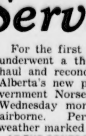

MR. FALLOW AND Mr. Lassiter, according to an explanation given by the minister a few minutes before take-off, will examine American machinery abandoned on completion of the Canol pipeline project, with a view to obtaining the equipment for provincial requirements. In addition, the party will visit en route the oil plant at Bitumont, between Edmonton and Fort Smith.

A full line of rifles, blankets, clothing and two RCAF concentrated food kits were included in the supplies taken along on the expedition.

THE AIRCRAFT was purchased by the province to fill a very practical need—swift transportation for government officials to the more inaccessible parts—and the inauguration of its flights was just as practical. No such frills as crashing champagne over the bow, no spoeches of good luck . . . instead, the pilot took his place at the controls, the passengers settled back in their seats. The screw zipped into motion and the polished green plane, mounted on floats, nosed towards the centre of the lake. In a few minutes the Norseman was disappearing into the distance, it's motor humming in perfect mechanical order.

AMONG THOSE on the seaplane dock waving goodbye were Mr. Fallow's two sons, Alex and Bill. Jr.

Alberta's minister of public works has taken to the skyways. The eyes of the other departments are watching this venture with keen interest.

I SAW TODAY: Fred V. Hollands parking his car on 105 street; AND Harry Gardler recalling old days on the tennis courts as he parked his auto near Thornton Court; C.A. Hyndman commenting on the weather as he stepped along Jasper; R. H. Patzig discussing economic affairs with a friend on 101 street; Hector Wynn transacting some business along the same thoughfare; Harry Smith in the Medical Building elevator; Jack Coy discussing gardening with another enthusiast.

Says Coal Shortage Hampers France's Industrial Recovery

France is making an amazing industrial recovery since the close of the war but must have more coal imports before normal economic conditions will prevail again. For that reason the French government and French people will insist on separation of the Ruhr and Rhineland from Germany at the peace conferences, Count Bernard de Menthon, Ambassador of the French Embassy Ottawa, said in an interview here Thursday.

COUNT DE MENTHON, accompanied by Countess de Menthon, is making a "familiarization tour" of Canada, his first since pre-war days.

He arrived in Ottawa from Washington and is counsellor following the San Francisco conference, when he was a member of the French delegation.

"The industrial recovery of France is being delayed because of an acute shortage of coal," Count de Menthon said.

"PRIOR TO THE WAR France imported large quantities of coal from Belgium and Great Britain. She can no longer obtain supplies from these sources, and although production of coal in France is much higher than before the war there is not nearly sufficient to meet normal demands. France feels she is entitled to a greater allocation of coal from the German Ruhr and Rhineland, as Germany was responsible for much damage to French industry," he said.

FRENCHMEN ALSO believe that in the interests of France, Europe and world peace and security the Ruhr and Rhineland must be separated from Germany forever.

"The Ruhr is a potential war power while the Rhineland is the springboard for invasion from Germany."

Crops are good in France this year and the outlook is now one of real hope, he said. There is a shortage of machinery and equipment but this is tied up with the coal shortage.

France will not "go Communist" in the opinion of Count de Menthon.

Canada is most popular in France and many Frenchmen contemplate coming to Canada to settle although the idea is dying down some now because of renewed hopes for French industrial recovery.

WHILE IN EDMONTON Count de Menthon paid courtesy calls on the lieutenant-governor and Premier Ernest Manning. He leaves for Winnipeg Friday.

August Coal Output Up

Alberta coal production for August amounted to 766,650 tons against 672,177 for the corresponding month of 1945, an increase of 94,473 tons, according to figures released Thursday by John Crawford, chief inspector of mines.

The total output from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31 of this year was 5,855,850 tons against 5,070,582 tons for the same period last year, an increase of 785,268 tons.

The bituminous field during August of this year yielded 566,046 tons against 466,246 tons for the same period last year, while the sub-bituminous field produced 28,602 tons in August against 265,501 tons in August of 1945.

The Edmonton field which is in the sub-bituminous field produced 33,552 tons in August against 22,706 tons in the same month of last year.

Two Women and Man Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

Traffic accidents in the city Wednesday caused one man to be taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital, suffering head injuries and body bruises, and two women to suffer bruises and shock.

The injured are:

Jack Wilson, 10616 72 avenue.
Mrs. Betty Cote, 11251 86 street.
Mrs. Beattie, 11929 95A street.

Jack Wilson 24 years old was taken to hospital in an unconscious condition after sustaining injuries when a motorcycle on which he was a passenger was in collision with a car operated by Lee Zigler, 101 Allan Blk., at the north end of the low level bridge. The motorcycle was driven by Robert Gilliland, 9501 101 street. Police say he came off the bridge, planning to turn east. He swerved to miss an approaching car, and in so doing, collided with another.

Although Wilson did not regain consciousness until several hours later he was taken to hospital by Smith's ambulance. His condition Thursday was reported satisfactory.

The two women were injured while passengers in a car operated by Joseph L. Cote, husband of one of the victims. He is said to have crashed into the rear of a car parked at 11918 95 street, and owned by Vic Horner, Northland Air Lines. The accident occurred as Cote made a turn off 120 avenue onto 95 street.

Mrs. Cote received a cut on the forehead when thrown against the windshield of the car by the impact.

To Feature Book Display

Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor "Library Week' in the city the second week in October, it was announced today by officials of the chamber. During that week, displays of books on varied subjects will be arranged at service club luncheons, downtown stores and offices of the Junior Chamber.

Books on roads, motoring and travel will be on display at the Alberta Motor Association offices. In addition, "open house" will be held all that week at the Library where the staff of the library, along with members of the chamber, will be present to interest the public with the facilities offered at the library.

H.C. Gourlay, P.J. Lazarowich and Duncan Innes will speak on several occasions. The speakers will be announced later. Members of the Spokes Club of the chamber will also assist during the week.

Tribute Is Paid Assn. President

Members of the Northern Alberta section of the Mortgage Loans Association of Alberta paid tribute recently to the president of the association, A. D. Love, who is leaving at the end of the month for Regina.

Mr. Love is the manager of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation here, and will assume the managership of the Regina branch on Oct. 1. He has been a resident of Edmonton for 21 years.

S. H. McCuaig, KC, solicitor for the association, presenting Mr. Love with a leather bag as a token of esteem from members of the association, referred to his services in various capacities, and in the various civic organizations.

Exchequer Court Is Sitting Here

Presiding over a sitting of the Exchequer Court of Canada, Mr. Justice C. A. Cameron of Belleville, Ont., is in Edmonton.

The case Mr. Justice Cameron will hear is an income tax appeal.

R. M. Spankie, KC, of Ottawa is deputy registrar of the court and E. S. MacLatchy, Ottawa, is solicitor for the Dominion government in the case. Members of the judicial party are guests at the Macdonald hotel.

Two Parked Trucks Looted of Goods

Two trucks parked at 104 avenue and 102 street were robbed of jackets, boots, camp equipment, films, rings and other articles, city police reported Thursday.

Complaint of the theft came from Mrs. C. W. Pelgas, Portland, Ore., who said she had parked four trucks near the Macdonald hotel where she was staying. Thieves forced doors of two of the trucks to make off with the goods.

No estimate was given as to the value of the goods taken.

Kaiser Suggests No War Profits

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Henry J. Kaiser Wednesday told a congressional committee investigating his wartime earnings that he would favor any system congress could develop to take all profits out of war.

It would be helpful, the west coast shipbuilder said as he returned for a third day of questioning by the house of representatives mercant marine committee, if congress could arrange it so no one would "make a dime" out of war.

Mr. Kaiser has insisted that he made no excessive profits out of his shipbuilding operations. On the other hand, he told the committee he and his family face a potential loss of $13,000,000.

Chairman Schuyler Bland (Dem., Va.) announced the hearings would end Friday to give committee members an opportunity to return home for election campaigning. It may be resumed, he said, after the November elections.

Still to testify are representatives of 15 other shipbuilding companies whose wartime activities are under scrutiny.

Danes Are Proud Of Sabotage Feats

By James McCook

COPENHAGEN, (CP) — When the Germans occupied Denmark on April 9, 1940, they found the population quiet and congratulated themselves on an easy victory.

Four years later the quiet Danes had developed an underground movement of such efficiency that most of the people were associated with it and 8,400 acts of sabotage on the railways alone made the movement of German troops and supplies almost impossible. On April, 1944—Hitler's birthday—the country rocked with an explosion every four minutes.

Danes remembering these days say that the Germans' power slipped away from them as the Danish nation awoke to resistance and all German hopes of food, hospitality and co-operation were dashed.

The Danes are proud of their underground movement and eagerly describe its workings. Newspapers were published all over Denmark denouncing the Germans and instructing underground forces.

Periodical meetings of the "Honey-Makers association" at the Copenhagen zoo restaurant were the conferences of the underground newspaper publishers.

The underground knew everything, and what the underground knew one night the British intelligence knew next morning.

Gestapo offices in Copenhagen were in a high office building. The Germans put their prisoners on the top storey where they would be the first victims of British bombing. But one day Mosquitos zipped between the chimneys and fired rockets—into the middle floors of the building. About 100 of the gestapo died and the prisoners on the top storey escaped.

The underground cared for Danes going out to join Allied services—about 5,000 Danes served on Allied merchant ships and 1,281 lost their lives—and handled the inbound movement of Allied agents and weapons. Among those escaping Denmark was Niels Bohr, the physicist who worked with Allied scientists on development of the atomic bomb.

The Danes estimate the occupation cost them 11,000,000,000 kroner (2,200,000,000 and their trade was reduced amount 60 percent.

Even Police Chief's Badge Is Stolen

MEXICO CITY, (AP) — R. W. Tibbett, chief of police of Mountain Brook, Ala., had his pocket picked soon after he left a session of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in convention here. His badge, credentials and $40 in travelers' cheques were taken, he said.

TAKES LONG TITLE

LONDON, (Reuters) — Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, who signed a Sir Bruce Fraser, who signed the Japanese instrument of surrender for Britain and was given a peerage in the last New Year's honors list, has taken the title of Baron Fraser of North Cape, of Molesey, Surrey, the London Gazette stated Tuesday. The first part of the title commemorates Lord Fraser's work on the northern convoy route to Russia, around the North Cape—Norway's northern tip.

Miss Agatha Chapman, economist for the Bank of Canada, has been charged before Ottawa police court with conspiring with members of the Russian spy ring to obtain and communicate secret information to the Soviet Union.

Blames Americans For Talking War

LONDON, (CP)—The Moscow radio, commenting on Prime Minister Stalin's assertion that he could see no real danger of a new war, broadcast Wednesday a declaration that there were "few countries where so much clamor was being raised" about a new war as in the United States.

"American publications are trying to create the impression that war is inevitable," the commentator Analyzer said in an English language broadcast.

Britain's press, meanwhile, front-paged world reaction to Stalin's statements and filled editorial columns with expressions of welcome for the Soviet prime minister's words.

In the United States many editors saw in Stalin's pronouncements the suggestion that the Soviet Union may be willing "to meet the western democracies half way," but others felt that his statements did not jibe the actions of his representatives here and at the Paris peace conference.

"Stalin makes it clear now," the San Francisco Chronicle said editorially, "that he does not think war is just around the corner, and if he doesn't think so, it isn't."

But the Detroit Free Press said the answer to the question of how much reliance could be placed in Stalin's sincerety in making the statements was "complicated by the fact that Stalin and his colleagues in the Kremlin have never abandoned Lenin's hope and plan to communize the world."

The New York Times declared: "It is part of the Russian enigma that words and actions often lie so far apart." The New York Herald Tribune suggested the Kremlin "may be groping after a real basis for peace, and even hints at the beginning of another shift in the party line, designed, however cautiously, to make such a basis possible."

Sees Improvement In U. N. Relations

MONTREAL, (CP)— Accomplishment of the positive economic and social aims of the United Nations charter will require more of the world's energy and resources than the mere prevention of armed conflict, Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, told the international labor conference Wednesday.

Discussing the relationship between U.N. and I.L.O., Mr. Lie said the United Nations does not possess the machinery to accomplish these economic and social aims by itself, and woul have to depend on specialized agencies and the I.L.O.

"The United Nations needs the full and active support of the I.L.O.," he said. "On the other hand the I.L.O. is bound to be strengthened by its close relationship with the United Nations and other specialized agencies."

The secretary-general addressed a plenary session of the labor conference in the course of a two-day visit. At a press conference following his speech, he said he hoped agreement would be reached with the Swiss government for the United Nations to use the League of Nations buildings at Geneva, where the ILO also has its former headquarters installations. However, the Geneva quarters would not house more than a section of U.N., which has a staff of 2,900.

In his speech Mr. Lie touched briefly on the international situation. There were still strong differences between the powers, though in certain respects the situation had improved recently. He thought the importance of some small disputes might have been exaggerated.

Will Supply Data On Citizenship

OTTAWA.—Designed to supply prospective Canadian citizens with basic information necessary to qualify for naturalization papers, the citizenship branch of the secretary of state department will shortly publish a manual entitled "How to become a Canadian Citizen."

The booklet will cover the whole field from the time the newcomer declares his intention of becoming a Canadian to the time he receives his final citizenship certificate.

6 Weeks in Woods; Lives on Berries

MONTREAL (CP) — A 40-year-old woman resident of St. Emile de Montcalm, 50 miles north of here, who disappeared six weeks ago when she decided "to have nothing to do any more with civilization," has returned to her home after living in the Montcalm county woods on nothing but berries.

Marie Rose Grenier left home Aug. 13, claiming to be the victim of constant persecution, police said. She became the object of a widespread search and finally was given up as lost.

Last Saturday, Jean Paul St. Amour found Miss Grenier lying in the woods. She was in a weak condition, her hair covered with spruce gum, her clothes and shoes in ribbons.

VOLCANO ACTIVE

ROME, (AP)—Dispatches from Messina, Sicily, said the Volcano Stromboli on the island of the same name in the Lipari group has become active again after two years of quiescence. While there were no reports of casualties or fires, the population of the island was described as intensely uneasy.

Nuernberg Judges Said Disagreeing

LONDON, (ONA) — The newspaper People reports in an exclusive dispatch that postponement to Sept. 30 of the day of judgment by the international military tribunal at Nuernberg, which tried the 21 top Nazis, was occasioned by differences which have arisen among the four judges as to the verdicts to be handed down.

The dispatch states that there is no disagreement over the guilt of the majority of the prisoners or over the sentences to be imposed but that there is disagreement in the remainder of the cases. The delay was set in the hope of reaching unanimity.

The newspaper dispatch adds that the jurists are divided two and two in at least two of the cases, and on three others the voting has been three to one.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Moderate earth shock was felt by many persons here about 5:00 a.m. Wednesday. No damage was reported.

Painter's Invention Saves Own Life

NEW YORK, (AP)— When his painter's scaffold collapsed Wednesday five storeys above a Manhattan street, 34-year-old Jack Frankel gambled his life on the effectiveness of a self-invented safety device—and won. He was left dangling in mid-air by the "automatic life protection device" he had spent the last six years perfecting.

Mr. Frankel had about his waist a three-pound reel-loke mechanism attached to his scaffold's guide rope. He unwound the reel, lowering himself cautiously. When police arrived with life nets he was down to the third floor and soon he had lowered himself to the sidewalk.

"Here are 6 IDEAS to save you time and work..."

Barbara B. Brooks
well-known Kellogg Home Economist

"These days every busy housewife is, on the alert for suggestions that will help save time and make food go further. That's why thousands depend so much on Kellogg's ready-to-eat cereals, not only for breakfast but to help use up left-overs in new delicious ways. Just see how easy it is to save time and work, and to get extra meals out of your food budget, with Kellogg's."

This hot weather breakfast is economical—easy to prepare. Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk and fresh fruit—assures you the family is getting plenty of real nourishment to start the day. Serve it tomorrow.

Here's a meatless lunch: Baked cheese eggs with tomato slices. Sprinkle devilled eggs with grated cheese and Bran Flakes crumbs, bake about 15 minutes. Your family will love this meatless meal for hot days.

Hungry after school? Let the children help themselves to a bowl of Kellogg's All Wheat with plenty of milk. Swell tasting and you know it will give them all the lift they need to carry them over to supper time.

Try this hostess idea: Delicious All-Bran muffins with iced tea. It's a pick-up treat everyone will enjoy. You'll find the easy-to-make recipe for All-Bran muffins on the side of the Kellogg's All-Bran package.

Consider the lowly hamburger for a main dinner dish. Add crushed Pep, chopped onion and seasoning, for a different, tempting flavour combination. You'd never have believed hamburger could be so good!

Note to icebox-raiders! Don't risk upsetting the little woman's food budget. Instead, try a bowl of Kellogg's Rice Krispies, the crisper cereal that stays crisp—will please your palate, satisfy your appetite.

Today, more than ever, one of Canada's most important foods!

THE world is relying on Canada to help stave off the ravages of starvation in war-torn countries. It's up to you to do your part . . . by making the most out of all your food . . . eliminating waste. The six suggestions above are only a few of the ways Kellogg's ready-to-eat cereals can help. Thousands rely on them . . . Keep all seven delicious Kellogg's cereals on hand.

Kellogg's pioneered ready-to-eat cereals. For over a quarter century, Canadian housewives have known and trusted Kellogg's products. Today Kellogg's is the greatest name in cereals!

Here's shredded whole wheat in an easy-to-eat form! Made from Canadian whole wheat . . . shredded, crisped, curled . . . Kellogg's Krumbles have a flavour that's different! Made in London, Canada.

Mrs. A. Ernest Duke Entertains At Trousseau Tea for Daughter

Complimenting Miss Eileen Duke, whose marriage to John Jorgens takes place at Knox United church Friday, her mother, Mrs. A. Ernest Duke entertained at a trousseau tea at her home Wednesday afternoon and evening. Pansies and other summer flowers decorated the rooms.

FOR RECEIVING the 100 guests, Mrs. Duke wore a rose sheer dress with a rose carnation corsage. Miss Duke chose an aqua wool frock complemented with a corsage of Shasta daisies. Mrs. C. H. Jorgens of Calgary, mother of the bridegroom-elect also received and wore a gray frock with a corsage of roses.

THE TEA table was set with a lace cloth and centred with a bowl of clarkia and sweetpeas, flanked with pink tapers in silver holders.

Pouring tea in the afternoon were Mrs. Stanley Duncan and Mrs. Fred Guest. Assisting in serving the guests were the Misses Doris Tanner and Betty Graham. Showing the trousseau were Mrs. Robert Hunter and Miss Marian Hunter.

In the evening those who poured were Mrs. George Colbert, Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Carl Bresdon and Mrs. Louis Younger. Serving were the Misses Lois Macpherson, Virginia Thompson and Jane Sinclair. Showing the trousseau were Mrs. Robert Hunter and the Misses Muriel Macdonald and Marian Hunter.

Next Two Years To Be Critical

MONTREAL, Sept. 26-(CP)- Belief that the next two years will be critical spiritually was expressed today by the Most Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan, Archbishop of Kingston, Ont., during an address to the Westmount, Que., division of the Catholic Women's League.

Archbishop O'Sullivan said that everything in the Roman Catholic Church is built on the home idea and added that "a woman who is a good parishioner will be a good citizen."

Clothes in France Expensive Says Comtesse de Menthon

All the big dressmakers in France have opened again and pre-war collections have begun to appear, but clothes are very expensive, Comtesse Bernard de Menthon said in an interview at the Macdonald hotel Thursday morning. Life of women in France is easier now than it was during the war. During the war it was difficult to buy food and transportation was impossible.

She is accompanying her husband, Count de Menthon, counsellor at the French embassy, on a tour of Western Canada.

Everyone went shoping on bicycles. Fortunately almost every family had an old bicycle. The only way manufactured articles could be obtained was to offer in exchange an equally hard to get article, she said.

During the war there was no electricity for street cars, nor gas for buses or taxis in Paris. Enough gas was allowed each household to permit two hours cooking a day. If a French family exceeded its ration it was first fined and failure to heed this warning resulted in electricity being completely cut off.

It was a familiar scene to see groups of people gathered around one lamp to conserve electricity, she said.

In the beauty salons after hair was attended to hairdressers sent patrons out in the sun to dry their locks before they returned to get it combed.

THE COMTESSE does not feel the cold at all in Canada. It isn't nearly as cold coming out of a warm house where there is plenty of food to eat as it is when you can't warm your house and you have to snuggle in rugs and overcoats most of the time.

In Paris it is the outsiders that have given the city its gay reputation. The French people seldom go out to the night clubs but they take life happily. During the war they stood in queues joking together.

Students are attending the different classes for foreign countries at Sorbonne university at Paris for the first time since the war.

Comtesse de Menthon learned to speak English as a child from her English governess. Canada is a rich, magnificent young country she said comparing it to the crowded conditions of Paris. She come to Canada one year ago.

Wants Women's Peace Congress

TORONTO, Sept. 26 -(CP)- The Canadian Congress of Labor Tuesday endorsed a resolution supporting the Women's International Democratic Federation and called on the congress of women's auxiliaries to establish a women's congress for peace in Canada.

Pearl Werdrow of Toronto, representing the International Fur and Leather Workers' Union which sponsored the resolution, said: "It is evident that reactionary forces are preparing for a third great war."

Women should act now to prevent another world conflict.

The resolution originally was to be referred to the incoming CCL executive but after Miss Werdrow's address the 685 delegates voted to adopt the motion immediately.

The WIDF setup last year in Paris at a meeting of the World Women's Congress for Peace was organized to stand for the principles of peace, child welfare and women's rights.

Hair Styles To Be Simpler This Season

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 -(AP)- The fashionable woman's hair style this season will be simpler and will thus require more attention than last season's complicated, ornamental coiffure.

This seeming paradox was voiced Tuesday by Erich Laetsch, New York City, member of the executive board of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Hair will be worn flowing and loose to a much wider extent this season than last, Mr. Laetsch said, and will need closer attention—regular brushing and frequent shampoos—"because as soon as there is the least bit of oil or perspiration or powder in it it looks stringy."

15 Million Pounds Soap Exported

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 -(CP)— No soap? The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that in the first seven months of the year, Canadian manufacturers have exported 15,870,713 pounds of it.

It may sound like a lot of soap to housewives who recently found the product scarce due to strikes which have stopped production of soda ash at Windsor and Amherstburg, Ont., but its just a dab compared with annual production figures which run around 235,000,000 pounds.

Of this year's exports up to the end of July 1,606,770 pounds were toilet soap and 14,263,943 of other kinds. Total value was $1,587,225.

However, it has been only in recent months that a soap shortage has been felt, and it is understood that during that period exports have fallen off correspondingly. Soap exports, falling under control of the combined food board, are rigidly controlled because of the fat and oil content of the product.

Powder Pact Fooled Germans

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 26-(CP)- A powder compact served as hiding place for the important dispatches which Raymonde Rock of Fernseely, Belgium, carried from the chief to another in the underground organization when the Germans invaded the country.

DURING THE WAR she taught school and the Germans never suspected that in her spare time she was capable of packing guns and ammunition for the underground, by bundling them in saddle packs and hauling them on her bicycle.

In Hamilton she now is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nethery and their son Alex. Miss Rock saved Alex from the Nazis more than two years ago.

"EVERY DAY for 120 days Miss Rock and her mother ran the risk of being shot for hiding me," said Alex, a former RCAF pilot.

Miss Rock is in Canada on behalf of the Belgian government to study the education systems in this country and also in the United States.

She had a good reason for joining the underground during the war—"In the First Great War the Germans killed my father and my brother," she said.

Travellers Auxiliary Holds Fall Meeting

Ladies' Auxiliary to the United Commercial Travellers held its first fall meeting recently. A report on the recent tea for the Cancer Control Fund was given by Mrs. T. J. Stevenson. It was held in the Empire room of the Hudson's Bay Company store.

The hospital visiting committee gave a report on visits to the soldiers in the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion. This work is being convened by Mrs. A. E. Austin.

A report on the progress of the bazaar work was given by the general convenor, Mrs. J. M. Cumming. The date set for the bazaar is Dec. 7.

Twa sewing meetings are arranged, one on Sept. 26 at the home of Mrs. J. S. Curry and the other on Oct. 3 at the home of Mrs. T. J. Stevenson.

Mrs. J. G. Leitch and Mrs. J. S. Curry were chosen as assistants to Mrs. D. C. Scramstead on the refreshment committee.

Princess Leads Dancing Revival

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Sept. 26, (CP)— Princess Elizabeth's enthusiasm for Highland and Scottish country dancing has led to a widespread revival of traditional dances throughout Scotland.

She has spent much of her spare time studying and practicing the intricate movements of many of the older dances and when she attended an all-Scottish recital here she surprised experts with her specialized knowledge.

She requested "Mrs. Stewart's Strathspey," an old dance, only recently discovered and little known.

Wirsch - MacLaine Wedding Held at Anglican Cathedral

CALGARY, Sept. 26—The Pro-Cathedral Church of the Redeemer was the scene of a wedding Sept. 14, when the Rev. W. G. Greenfield officiated at the marriage of Miss Ethe Louise MacLaine second daughter of Mrs. W. B. MacLaine, and Eddie John Wirsch, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wirsch of Edmonton, formerly of Ireland.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her brother Jack MacLaine. She wore a floor-length frock of white sheer which featured an embroidered bodice made with a high neckline and full bishop sleeves gathered to a band at the wrist. Her chapel veil was held in place with a halo of white sweetpeas and she carried a shower bouquet of pink sweetheart roses tied with a large white satin bow.

The bride's sister, Miss S. MacLaine was bridesmaid, attired in a long gown of orchid taffeta complemented by an ivory chapel veil and matching elbow-length gloves. Her bouquet was of Kokomo carnations.

Lauchlin MacLaine, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother wore for her daughter's wedding a violet frock of Australian wool with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A RECEPTION was held in the Standarin Gardens following the ceremony when bouquets of pastel sweetpeas, carnations, and roses, formed a floral decoration, and the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Jack MacLaine proposed the toast to the bride to which the bridegroom responded.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon at Banff and Lake Louise and will return to Calgary to reside. As her travelling ensemble the bride chose a gold dressmaker suit with contrasting brown accessories, worn with a three-quarter length top coat of emerald green. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Among Calgary students coming this week to Edmonton to resume their studies at the University of Alberta are The Misses Irene Edwards, Mildred Weiser, Phyllis Finch, Joan Arnold, Marion Roberts, Agnes McKenzie, Celia Cockeram, Mary Doughty, Jack Sayer, Bruce Hatfield, Don Phyllips, Jack Randall, Jack Scringeour and Colin Ramsay.

Advises Workers To Avoid Strikes

MONTREAL, (CP)—An appeal to workers to avoid strikes and instead use the machinery of conciliation to win improvements in working conditions was made at the International Labor conference Tuesday by Gustave Francq, Canadian workers' delegate, who addressed the representatives of 50 nations in plenary session.

Mr. Francq, who is secretary of the Quebec Federation of Labor, CTCC, (Roman Catholic), was in favor while scoring strikes as an obstacle to increased production, declared wage levels were not yet high enough, and that existing pay scales could be bettered without contributing to the wage-price spiral.

He said further wage adjustments were necessary because there were "still too many" workers not earning enough to raise their families, and to set aside some provision for old age.

Report Stalin Book Outsells Karl Marx

LONDON, (CP)—Joseph Stalin has outdone Karl Marx as a best-selling writer, the Moscow radio reported Tuesday. Stalin's book, "A Short Course on the History of the C.P.S.U. (Bolsheviks)," was published Oct. 1, 1938. In the eight years since, the broadcast said, 31,317,000 copies have been distributed in 61 Soviet dialects and 16 foreign languages.

Here's a new recipe to try

"RED-HOT" POTATO SCALLOP

Peel onions; slice thin and separate into rings. Cut weiners in ½-inch slices. Turn prepared onions, weiners, celery and potatoes into a greased baking dish and combine well. In saucepan—mix together mustard, sugar, salt and pepper; blend in Aylmer Tomato Soup and water; heat just to boiling point. Pour sauce into vegetable mixture and combine lightly. (If necessary, pour in enough boiling water to have sauce covering vegetables.) Cover and bake in moderate oven, 375°, until vegetables are tender—about 1½ hours. Servings—6.

2 medium-sized onions
4 weiners
½ cup finely-diced celery
3 cups ½" diced raw potatoes
½ tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. granulated sugar
½ tsp. salt
Few grains pepper
1 can Aylmer Tomato Soup
1 cup water

Housing Program Urged by Labor

WINDSOR, (CP) — The Trades and Labor Congress convention, adopting a report of its reconstruction committee, Tuesday levelled sharp criticism at the government's reconstruction policies.

The reconstruction report, presented by John Bruce of Toronto, committee chairman, dealt with general reconstruction problems and particularly with housing. It included a resolution on housing, which the convention adopted, advocating five main points:

1. Allocation of materials to partially-completed houses.

2. Government construction of low-rental homes of a higher standard than wartime housing.

3. Financing of national housing plans through the Bank of Canada, rather than through private financial institutions, with longer terms and lower monthly payments.

4. Introduction of a comprehensive slum clearance plan.

5. Issuance or national victory housing loan bonds to finance a broad housing program.

Oppose Polish Settlement

The report also dealt with immigration, proposing introduction of a carefully-considered immigration plan drafted by a parliamentary committee and expressing opposition to the selection of immigrants through the plan under which Polish soldiers are to be brought to Canada.

"It is extremely regrettable that the government has not shown the same enthusiasm or dynamic energy in developing our peacetime program and necessary measures for production as they did in developing our wartime activities," the report said.

The committee said there was need of stimulus to the operation of industry at full capacity avoiding leaving it to the "biased operators of private enterprise who are already showing their complete inability to meet the situation."

The government had failed to act on recommendations made in the recent cartel report as a means of controlling monopolies.

The government had adopted a "defeatist attitude" on housing, it said.

Would Subsidize Industry

The report said greater use should be made of subsidies to stimulate industry with attention paid first to home markets, rather than export markets. Nationalization of financial institutions was favored.

"It is evident that our whole monetary and credit system is out of date and needs to be reconstructed to meet the modern demands of a new world," the report said.

"Economic planning is essential if we are to meet success in our peacetime responsibilities and any measure of planning to be successful must not be left to, or decided by, politicians."

The committee said while labor would be blamed for any inflationary tendencies it did not subscribe to the theory that higher wages were inflationary.

U.S. Says Russia Violates Pledge

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The United States accused Russia Tuesday of violating a Big Three pledge by refusing to lend a helping hand to remodel war-darned Hungary.

A note to the Soviet foreign ministry called Russia's attention to the Yalta pledge to assist "the peoples of the former Axis satellite states of Europe to solve by democratic means their pressing political and economic problems."

Sharply indicating both mounting impatience and anxiety to have that promise fulfilled, the United States reminded Moscow that it had twice sought to make it good in the case of Hungary.

But it added the "Soviet government not only has refused to implement the undertaking... but has moreover failed to indicate its reasons for so refusing."

The note, handed the foreign ministry Sept. 21 by the acting American charge d'affaires, Eldridge Durbrow, was made public by State Undersecretary Clayton.

Mr. Clayton also:

1. Denied the allegation by Russia's representative, Andrei Gromyko, before the United Nations security council that the presence of American troops in China, Iceland, Brazil and Panama was causing "uneasiness."

2. Expressed confidence that the agreement for the withdrawal of American troops from Iceland and the establishment there of a joint civilian-manned air base would be ratified by Iceland's parliament.

An accompanying statement released by Mr. Clayton listed the "concrete affirmative" aid given Hungary by the United States, including: The return of gold valued at about $2,000,000; a long-term credit of $15,000,000 to buy surplus property; instructions to American commanders in Germany and Austria to return to Hungary property removed by the Germans.

Driver Is Accused Of Manslaughter

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Rudolph Hagyi of Burnaby was charged with manslaughter Tuesday as the alleged driver of a truck which Monday night struck and killed Mrs. Caroline Deacon as she crossed a road.

Mrs. Deacon was the mother of a former top-ranking Canadian tennis star, Caroline Deacon.

Hagyi told police Mrs. Deacon apparently became confused as she crossed the highway, and that he could not avoid striking her with his heavy truck.

Officers in Navy To Wear Civvies

OTTAWA, (CP)—In another step toward peacetime routine, naval service headquarters Tuesday announced that after Oct. 1 naval officers serving at headquarters may wear civilian dress while on duty. Exception will be made under certain circumstances.

Playing on a railway bridge over the Thames river at London, Ont., James Graham, three, narrowly missed being hit by the train which struck and killed his younger playmate. Police say the youngsters wandered from their home more than two blocks away and walked down the right-of-way just as the noon rail traffic was at its heaviest.

Gravel Men Find Calgarian's Body

CALGARY, (CP) — A drag line bucket scooped the body of 36-year-old Gerald Sevigny of Calgary from the Bow river here Tuesday. The body was on top of a load of gravel when Bert Martin, operator of the drag line, pulled the bucket in.

Dr. G. R. Johnson, coroner, reported that death was due to drowning. He said it was believed Sevigny had committed suicide while mentally unbalanced. No inquest will be held.

Sevigny, an upholsterer, was last seen alive Monday.

Name Calf After Lord Alexander

CHARLOTTETOWN, (CP) — Governor General Viscount Alexander smilingly agreed Monday to have a male calf named after him.

But it is no ordinary calf that will be known as "Abegweit Lord Alexander." It was dropped by Abegweit Milady, world champion butter fat producer over all breeds and ages, owned by Premier J. Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island. A full brother dropped a year ago brought $10,000. The calf was born while the governor general, now on a tour of the maritimes, was in Summerside.

Laborites Endorse Farmers' Demand

WINDSOR, (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress Wednesday went on record supporting the demand of striking Alberta farmers for appointment of a government committee to investigate parity prices.

Delegates to the T.L.C. convention gave support to a resolution favoring the establishment of close co-operation between the T.L.C. and farm groups. The resolution suggested periodic meetings of farm and labor representatives to "discuss mutual problems and develop co-operation and joint action on all issues which affect the workers, the farmers and the country as a whole."

H. R. Harvey, Regina, supporting the resolution, said it was a misconception to think the majority of western farmers were prosperous. The farmers' objective was the same as that of labor—improvement of their standard of living.

Carl E. Berg, Edmonton, said the western strike was one of a minority group and was not supported by the major groups. "The matter should be settled among the farmers themselves," he said. "We should be careful about supporting minority groups."

Mr. Berg said he was not opposed to investigation of parity prices but he was opposed to giving general support to the strike.

"I have difficulty in justifying the position where I pay $2.25 for a chicken that I used to get for 65 cents," he said. "I don't want to endorse the dumping of milk when it is needed by children in the cities and in Europe."

Mr. Berg said there had been no request from the western farmers for support from the congress. Other speakers took the position the congress should not wait for such a request. Farmers and labor had much in common and farmers had not received the full benefit of higher prices for farm products, it was said.

Rosalind Man Dies En Route to City

CALGARY, (CP)—Casper J. Hindel, 65, of Rosalind, Alta., died aboard a railway train en route from Calgary to Edmonton Monday night. He was taken off the train at Olds. He was pronounced dead by Dr. C. C. Hartman, coroner, who attributed death to a heart attack. No inquest will be held.

HAMILTON CHOSEN

WINDSOR, (CP)—The Canadian Trades and Labor congress Tuesday chose Hamilton as its 1947 convention city.

Barley Shipments To Lakes Banned

WINNIPEG, (CP)—The Canadian Wheat board announced Tuesday that effective immediately no shipments of barley may be made to Fort William-Port Arthur from any shipping point west of these ports. Shipment of damp barley is exempt.

It was announced also that shipment of oats from each western elevator to any destination would be permitted in the ratio of one car of oats to each three cars of wheat.

Bear Is Guest In Ottawa Jail

OTTAWA, (CP)— A small but amiable 75-pound bear has been dispatched to the Gatineau hills after upsetting the routine of police and humane society officials and picking up a jail record.

Following his capture at a downtown intersection Monday night, Bruin spent the night in cell No. 1 of the city police station.

"Cell No. 1 isn't generally used for prisoners," a policeman explained. "We keep ice there, and the bear climbed on a cake of ice and went to sleep."

It was learned the bear had been purchased from a travelling rodeo several weeks ago by Robert Simpson who planned to use the animal for display purposes.

Eire Increases Defence Measures

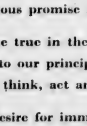

DUBLIN, (Reuters)— Prime Minister De Valera, a man of peace who kept his country out of the Second Great War, has shown that he believes in keeping his powder dry nevertheless.

A bill was published Tuesday providing funds for air raid precautions. Previously the permanent army of Eire was doubled from its pre-war strength and mechanization introduced into its ranks. New plans also have been published for Eire's small navy.

Informed sources say the government believes in preparing for the worst, but it is not pessimistic over the prospects of enduring peace.

Daily air service between London and Copenhagen has been started.

Huge Car Ring Smashed in U.S.

DETROIT, (AP) — Prison sentences up to two years and fines totalling nearly $100,000 were imposed Tuesday on 24 men convicted as conspirators in what the United States government once labelled "the nation's largest used car black market ring."

Three others were granted probation and sentences of two more were deferred until Sept. 27.

At the time of their arrest last spring the O.P.A. accused the defendants of netting $2,000,000 in over-ceiling sales of used automobiles.

Judge A. A. Koscinski said the men "wantonly and recklessly" violated the price control law with a "flagrant and shocking disregard" for the government.

Heaviest sentence—a maximum of two years and $10,000—was handed to Ben F. Fishel, 33, who, according to testimony, conducted a used car auction at overceiling prices in Cairo, Ill., while he was still in army uniform.

MODERATION

promises a glorious future

Because we are a moderate people, Canada has come through the war with perhaps the least dislocation of any nation actively involved. That is a remarkable tribute both to the overall policies of our Government and to the fundamental wisdom of the Canadian people.

And it holds out a glorious promise for the future.

But to make that promise come true in the days ahead we shall have to continue to live up to our principles of moderation. We shall have to continue to think, act and live—moderately.

To give in to the natural desire for immediate enjoyment of everything and anything presently in short supply can result only in inflation and disaster.

This is not our way.

The House of Seagram suggests that each day's enjoyment be moderate so that the rich promise of Canada's tomorrow can be fulfilled . . . to the full.

Men who Think of Tomorrow Practice Moderation Today!

Soong Asks Russia And U. S. To Clarify Policies in China

By Royal Arch Gunnison

NANKING, (NANA)—T. V. Soong, premier of China, in an exclusive interview with this correspondent, expressed the opinion that, although "it may be asking a great deal," the civil war situation in China would nevertheless be eased if the United States and Soviet Russia could decide between them just what their international policy is going to be in this country.

The Chinese premier, who actually is president of the powerful executive Yuan, stressed the much-discussed point that while China's present internal difficulty is "strictly Chinese" it has developed certain international aspects that further complicate an already complex Oriental situation.

Sitting in a large, overstuffed chair in his air-conditioned office in which the air conditioner didn't work, Soong mopped his perspiring face and frankly admitted that things didn't seem to be improving at the moment in China's internal affairs. In fact, he expressed some concern about the transport and distribution of vital articles—such as food and coal—for the coming winter. For this he blamed the Communist-led Chinese armies which have been tying up most communications and civilian transportation in north and central China.

Questioned About War

I asked him if he felt the "so-called" civil war could be settled through compromise without much more fighting. This was at the moment Communist Leader Gen. Chou En-lai had suggested that the five-man committee proposed by U.S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart be sidetracked, and that negotiations be resumed by the committee of three which includes Chou, U.S. Presidential Envoy George C. Marshall, and either Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek or a top representative of the Kuomintang (Nationalist party).

"I believe it is going to be difficult to work out a commcmise with the Communists as things now stand," he said, "but to quote you a well-known phrase I maintain that 'hope springs eternal . . .' that the fighting can cease as soon as possible. However, we just can't permit ammuties and such items as food and coal—for the coming winter. For this he blamed the Communist-led Chinese armies which have been tying up most communications and civilian transportation in north and central China.

China Not Unique

It was here he observed that "the international situation in the Far East certainly does complicate things . . . Actually, here in China the problem is strictly local with a clash between two political ideologies—Communism and our growing concept of an Oriental democracy. This conflict can either be settled peaceably—or through struggle. China is not the only country involved in this struggle . . . and it is here that the international complication comes in. China is not different from other nations in this respect. But at this time our conflict happens to be making the headlines."

I asked China's No. 2 leader and brother of Madame Chiang Kai-shek another question that is very much discussed in China today—and apparently in America from newspaper stories reaching the local inflammatory Chinese press.

"It is incredible to many people," I said, "that the Chinese Communists should constantly deny they are receiving orders and moral support direct from Moscow. What do you think?"

Soong noted for his direct answers, said he thought the question deserved a long answer, but that he hoped I would be satisfied when he said that he "respected the opinion" of people who thought it incredible the Chinese Communists continued to deny the Moscow connection.

LACO QUALITY LAMPS

Vancouver to Open Memorial Pavilion

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The new $220,000 Jean Matheson memorial pavilion, named after a former matron at Shaughnessy military hospital, will be officially opened here Friday. The late Miss Matheson's brother, Archibald Matheson, will come from Grande Prairie for the ceremonies.

Miss Rhondda Kelly—"Miss Australia," chosen from over 1,000 contestants in Australia to show Australian woolen fashions all over the world. She will shortly be leaving for the U. S. and Canada.

Currency Trouble Plagues Nuernberg

By Frank Swanson

LONDON—Confusion reigns this week at Nuernberg where observers of many nations are awaiting the outcome next Monday of 10-month long trial of major nazi war leaders.

Cause for the confusion has nothing to do with the military tribunal or with any of the 21 accused. It is purely financial.

Last week, U.S. occupation authorities announced the inauguration of new military payment certificates in place of Allied marks as currency for all occupation forces in order to combat trading in the black market by troops.

Unable to exchange Russian-printed marks for the new currency and therefore unable to pay for meals in the press camp, the corps of Russian correspondents left the Nuernberg press camp in a huff.

Now it has been announced that the British staff, numbering in the hundreds and British press correspondents, may exchange only 816 worth of British occupation currency a week for American money. Since the cost of living in Nuernberg is far above this amount, both the staff and correspondents are wondering how they are going to live until after the end of the trial.

A crisis is expected to reach a climax over the week-end when a number of "VIPS"—very important persons—from Britain are expected to reach Nuernberg to hear judgment Monday. Although they are to be billetted in the comfortable Grand hotel, there is great speculation as to how they will pay their bills.

Last year India minted three times as many coins as in 1939.

Extra Meat for Miners Issue Facing Laborites

By Basil Dean

LONDON.— For the first time since the Labor government was elected, it has become engaged in a public argument with the powerful general council of Trades Union congress on the subject of extra meat rations for miners.

Food Minister John Strachey has agreed with the demands of Britain's National Union of Mineworkers, backed by Fuel Minister Emanuel Shinwell, that a heavy increase in meat rations be granted to the underground workers.

Strachey earlier had warned he couldn't accede to the request without prior concurrence from the congress, since Britain's meat supplies are not sufficient to allow for extra rations for any other class of industrial workers. The mineworkers then toted their demand to the congress, which said while it cannot oppose the granting of extra rations, it does not like the way in which the food and fuel ministries handled negotiations. Furthermore, congress now feels it has been put on the spot because it will be difficult to oppose the inevitable demands of other heavy industrial workers for more meat.

The fact of the matter seems to be that Shinwell is extremely anxious about this winter's coal prospects. The imminent danger of a coal famine represents the worst peril which Britain must face, and could conceivably wreck the entire reconstruction and export-boosting program.

While it is likely that the granting of extra rations will encourage miners to dig more coal, it is also likely to cause jealousy among other workers and lead to similar demands by them.

Lotion Too Strong; Druggist Is Fined

VANCOUVER, (CP) — George Samworth, a drug store operator, was fined $300 or three months in jail when convicted by Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes in police court Wednesday on a charge of selling shaving lotion with a too-high alcohol content. He paid the fine.

The charge, possibly the first of its kind in Canada, was laid under the Indian act.

Police said they discovered in Samworth's cash register a marked $2 bill used by an Indian in purchasing two bottles of shaving lotion. An R.C.M.P. constable testified that the shaving lotion contained 37 percent alcohol by weight.

"BEEF" SELLERS FINED

AMHERST, N.S. (CP)— Fines totalling $2,400 were imposed on four Cumberland county men Wednesday convicted of selling horse meat to Halifax packing companies as boneless beef at prices above the six-cent-a-pound ceiling for horse meat.

'Ike' Says A-Bomb Won't Settle War

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY (Reuters)—Gen. Eisenhower said Wednesday night that he agrees with Prime Minister Stalin's view that the atomic power would not be a decisive factor in the outcome of a war. No destructive weapon could be decisive, the United States army chief of staff said.

Referring to Gen. Stalin's comments on American troops in China, Gen. Eisenhower said total United States military strength in China was "minor" with only small detachments represented. There was nothing that could be termed an occupation army in China, he added.

Australian Vote May Set Record

By William Stewart

CANBERRA, (CP)—The Australian election campaign is reaching its closing stages with newspapers filled with political stories and advertising and the Labor, Liberal and Country party leaders making final broadcasts to the electorate which is expected to give a record vote of more than 4,500,000 ballots.

Led by Prime Minister Chifley, the Labor party in seeking re-election stands on its five-year record which it claims has given Australia its present-day prosperity. Labor claims there is no unemployment in the country today despite demobilization of 500,000 service men and women.

The Liberals, led by Robert Menzies, early war prime minister who then headed the United Australia party, offers reduced taxes as a means of overcoming domestic shortages of all kinds through an added incentive to production.

Arthur Fadden's Country party, seeking to form a coalition government with the Liberals, claims the Labor party is slowly surrendering to left-wingers and has established too many controls over private enterprises. The Australian voters have three sets of ballots to mark Saturday under the "preferential" system of voting.

With the first ballot they elect 75 members to the house of representatives. With the second they choose 19 senators who will enter the 36-seat upper house next July, and with the third the voters decide separately whether the federal government should have added power under the constitution to regulate marketing, extend social services and regulate working conditions nationally.

Coal production in Belgium increased over 70 percent last year.

In Australia, one may not buy or sell used tires but may lend them.

the New Way to take VITAMINS...for better results!

Take them in fortified food—the delicious Ovaltine way!

Of course, the whole subject of vitamins is new. We learn more about them every day. And today, millions are learning a new and better way to take their extra vitamins—a more modern, more natural way that can do more good. Discarding earlier methods of taking vitamins alone, they now take them in fortified food!

For latest evidence shows that vitamins do not work alone. They work most effectively in combination with certain other food elements—which are absolutely necessary for best results.

This is the reason so many people are changing to Ovaltine. A specially-fortified supplementary food-drink — it contains — besides vitamins — nearly every precious food element needed for good health. Especially, those elements necessary for vitamin-effectiveness.

For example, Vitamin A and protein are both necessary in cell-building. Vitamin B1 and energy food act together for sparkling vitality. Vitamin D, Calcium and Phosphorous also need each other. You get them all in a glass of Ovaltine made with milk!

So why not turn to Ovaltine, as many people are doing? If you're eating normal meals, 2 glasses of Ovaltine give you all the extra vitamins and minerals you need for robust health.

Authorities say many people should get extra vitamins and minerals. Reasons include improper selection of foods—vitamin deficiencies of many modern foods—also loss of vitamin-mineral values due to shipping, storing and cooking.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, (AP) — Ahead Thursday were Chrysler, Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Kennecott, Standard Oil (NJ). The laggards included U. S. Rubber, Allied Chemical, American Can, Dow Chemical.

Canadian stocks were uneven at mid-day on light trading. Both Dome Mines and McIntyre gained ¼. Hiram Walker dropped a point.

Grain Prices

EDMONTON GRAIN

Street prices of grain remained steady Thursday on oats, all grades down to 1 feed 38½, 2 feed 38 and 3 feed 37½; barley 47¾; with usual bonus on each. National Grain Company quoted rye: 2 C.W. 2.10½, 3 C.W. 2.05, 3 C.W. 2.01, ergoty 1.73.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Rye futures prices took their cue from advances in Chicago grains Thursday and moved up for broad gains on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Local and commision house buying found fair United States support and offerings were well received.

At the close Oct. was up 5⅞ at 2.36⅜ bid; Dec. 5⅝ higher at 2.28-2.28¼ and May up 5⅜ at 2.24⅜ bid. Cash rye 2.36⅜.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO.—Grain was strong in early trading on Thursday, wheat setting a new peak and corn doing the best of the crop year.

Weakness in oats spread to other pits toward the close and final prices were lower. Wheat closed down ⅛-1½, corn was off ⅛-⅝, and oats dropped ⅞-1¼. Jan. wheat ended at 2.02, Jan. corn 1.41¾.

Livestock

EDMONTON LIVESTOCK

Stockyard receipts: cattle 85, calves 17, hogs 2.

Trading on the cattle market Thursday was somewhat slow due to very limited numbers on offer. Morning sales indicated prices to be about steady with the week's decline of 25 to 50 cents per cwt. One small lot outstanding weighty steers realized 12.85, practical top 12.75; choice heifers 11.50 and choice cows 9.50.

CALGARY LIVESTOCK

CALGARY, (CP)—Cattle market active at steady prices. Wednesday's receipts: 533 cattle, 104 calves, 80 hogs, 113 sheep. Thursday morning: 130 cattle, 19 calves, 46 hogs, 10 sheep.

Hogs sold at $20.25 for A's, sows $15.00.

Good to choice butcher steers 12.00-12.75, good butcher heifers 11.00-11.50; good cows 9.00-9.50; good bulls 9.00-9.50; stocker and feeder steers 10.00-10.75; good lambs 12.50-12.65.

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Trade ruling about steady, with an indication of fair cleanup.

Cattle, 1800; calves, 400; hogs, 175; sheep, 180.

Steers, choice, 12.25-12.75; good, 11.25-12.00; heifers, choice, 11.00-11.50; good, 9.75-10.75; fed calves, good, 12.00-12.50; medium, 11.00-11.50; cows, good, 8.75-9.50; bulls, good, 9.00-9.75; stocker and feeder steers, good, 9.50-10.50.

Good and choice veal, 13.00-14.50.

Grade B-1 hogs dressed, 1.985.

Good lambs—unsettled.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, (AP)—Hogs 1,100; all good and choice hogs, sows and stags 16.25.

Cattle 2,300; calves 400; most steers, yearling heifers 17.50-20.25; most medium heifers 14.75-17.00; canner and cutter cows 7.25-18.75; strictly good heavy cows 17.75; bulls 13.50 down; vealers 18.00 down; stockers and feeders 16.00-18.00.

Sheep 6,000; good and choice lambs 19.75; slaughter ewes, medium to choice 9.50; few choice 9.75; common 7.75.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO, (CP) — In dull trading Thursday on the Toronto stock exchange trading bulked in two or three of the golds on a turnover of about 900,000 shares.

Profit-taking in the senior golds ended with a few sizeable losses, including Little Long Lac 3, Macleod 5, San Antonio 10 and Wright Hargreaves 5. In the base metals group Golden Manitou gained 10 to sell at $2.45 and Pend Oreille gained 18.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, (CP) — On the upside in utilities were Bell, Brazilian, Power Corporation, Winnipeg Electric and B.C. Power "B." Weaker were Canadian Industries, Dosco, Canadian Car, Cement, and General Steel Wares. Nova Scotia fell back in banks and C. P. R. was a winner in carriers.

FROBISHER EXPANDS

TORONTO, (CP)—Shareholders of Frobisher Exploration Company, at a special meeting here, approved issuing 500,000 new shares at $3 per share on the basis of one for every five held. The new funds will finance Connemara gold mine, Central Rhodesia and assist in bringing the Keno Hill silver project in the Yukon to production next month. The latter was formerly Treadwell Yukon mine.

Thayer Lindsley, representing Ventures Limited, said that at this time the Frobisher company was concentrating particularly on a search for silver.

BANK DEPOSITS RISE

OTTAWA, (CP)—Dominion government deposits increased $10,036,000 to $49,831,000 during the week ended Sept. 25, the Bank of Canada reported in its weekly financial statement.

Chartered bank deposits increased $23,458,000 to $514,874,000 and notes in circulation increased $2,315,000 to $1,143,653,000.

21-Year-High Hit By Chicago Wheat

CHICAGO, (AP)—A new 21-year-high for wheat futures was esablished in the grain pits Thursday, but the market had difficulty in maintaining extreme advances. The January wheat delivery rose above $2.04. It closed at $2.02.

In cash markets corn was strong as processors bid for the grain in fear of a drying up of supplies in commercial channels if livestock ceilings are abolished. Bid for new crop shipped by Oct. 15 rose to $1.65, up 20 cents a bushel.

"30 minutes a month"

A MESSAGE TO ALL EMPLOYEES

Many employees are anxious to contribute to the coming COMMUNITY CHEST campaign, through a payroll deduction system. This simple and effective method can only be inaugurated by YOU, the employees. It is vitally important that all employee groups in Edmonton who wish to use the payroll deduction method, follow the simple steps outlined below. Take the lead in your own place of business—and organize to give 30 minutes a month to the COMMUNITY CHEST.

(A) Contact your employer and tell him of your desire to organize a payroll deduction plan for the Community Chest.

(B) Organize, among your fellow workers, a Community Chest committee. You'll need a selling group to contact everyone concerned.

(C) Phone Community Chest headquarters at 27646. They will supply you with pledge cards and give you all the information you need.

(D) Work for 100% support. Sell each employee the idea of donating the equivalent of 30 minutes a month. Get all pledge cards signed and give them to your employer.

Lloyd Halloch, East Lorra, Ont., farmer, who landed for police a suspect in the $1,500 hold-up of the Bank of Commerce at Hickson, Ont. He offered a drive to a hitchhiker whom he saw near the bank, and did not let him out until he reached his own lane, when he telephoned the police. Shortly after the suspect was arrested nearby.

Norse Traitors May Be Worked

OSLO, (ONA) — Collaborators now serving prison terms constitute the only considerable manpower reserve left in Norway, according to a labor directorate survey which has just been published here.

As Norway's labor shortage is expected to last several years longer, there is a growing sentiment on the part of officials and the public in favor of a more lenient attitude toward those collaborators who have served their prison terms.

This attitude was reflected in a Gallup Poll survey, in which the question asked was, "Do you think that persons who have served their sentence for collaboration should be allowed to work on an equal footing with others?" Of the answers, 55 percent were affirmative, 39 percent negative and six percent undecided.

Women are less opposed to equal footing for the collaborators than men. Opposition is less among the old than among the young and less among the higher income groups. Opposition is also smaller in the urban than in the rural districts. Leftists were generally more numerous in the opposition group than the Rightists.

Take Suite Bonus, Toronto Men Fined

TORONTO, (CP)— In what prices board investigators said was the first conviction of its kind, two Toronto men were fined Wednesday for accepting a bonus when renting a suite.

Lisha Sarick was fined $250 and costs or 60 days and Louis Davidson $100 and costs or 30 days.

Neighbors Harvest Widow's Full Crop

BASSANO, Alta., (CP)—A "surprise party" of grand proportions was staged by neighboring farmers of the Makepeace and Crowfoot districts for Mrs. Pauline Hereford, widow of Elton Hereford of Makepeace.

In one day the farmers harvested all of Mrs. Hereford's 460-acre crop, which she feared would be a total loss, because she could not get sufficient harvest help.

The farmers used 17 combines and eight or 10 trucks. They assembled at the astonished Mrs. Hereford's farm at about 9:30 a.m. and by 5:30 p.m. had the whole crop either in the elevator at Crowfoot or in granaries on the farm.

Mr. Hereford, an oldtimer in the Makepeace district, died two months ago and an only son was killed accidentally last year.

CHURCHILLS IN BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, (Reuters)—Winston Churchill, accompanied by his daughter Mary, arrived by air Wednesday for a three-day visit to Prince Charles, Belgian regent, and Belgian Queen Mother Elizabeth.

Labor Suggests Senate Abolition

TORONTO, (CP) — Abolition of the senate "as an undemocratic body" was recommended Wednesday at the sixth regular convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor amid chuckles prompted by a remark by A. R. Mosher, president of the organization.

"The senate, as far as I know, is the only place to get complete social service and I'd suggest it be extended so everybody can get to be a senator," he said.

Minute Make-Ups

For Eye Glamour try using a very little brown cream eyeshadow on the eyes. Smooth it up toward the eyebrows. Use this eyeshadow cream on the eyelids instead of mascara. Brush the eyebrows with oil to make them gleam. If lashes are very black, use black eyelash cream instead of brown eyeshadow for the lashes.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Many mothers have become aware of the growing change in the professional attitude toward a child's weight. It once was that unless every child measured up to the figures for average weight and height on the charts, his mother got a ticket from his teacher or a scolding from the doctor.

We are not insinuating that there are no underfed and underweight children, far from it. Obviously normal growth takes into account that children will go forward in weight and upward in height from the day they are born. But it does take into account that there are children, well fed and cared for, who will never approximate the height and weight of some of their companions of the same age. Their mothers need not feel defeated and guilty because of this.

Children fall into certain groups because of their inherited weight and height potentialities. The racial background is important, even though children of small-statured races can reach greater heights if well and properly fed. Delicate bony structures give different weights than those of thick, heavy bones, though both children may be equally well-fed and healthy.

The important thing is that children of all types should progress continuously in relation to their own weight and height groups, rather than to advance according to some "average" which is a combination of the weights and heights of all groups.

The tendency, when a child is thin, is to stuff him on fats and sweets because of their high caloric value. Fatty foods, being slowest to leave the stomach, retard hunger contractions and therefore stifle appetite. Concentrated sweets are so highly satisfying to the diet that they also decrease the child's hunger pangs as well as make him dissatisfied with less flavorful foods.

One should not force a child to eat. One can set the stage for a good appetite and for the production of hunger pangs by giving the child three wholesome meals containing the growth foods, cutting down on between-meal snacks, providing opportunity for ample, vigorous exercise indoors and out, and insisting on lengthy night sleep and daytime rest periods. There is nothing else needed to give the child his proper size for his age and insure that he will eat all that he needs for his healthy growth.

Our leaflet No. 29 "Diet from Five to Eight Years," will help the parent of the school child to check on his daily rations. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Why Grow Old?

Vigorous scrubbing with a bath brush will take the roughness away from your upper arms, says Josephine Lowman. Actress Arlene Dahl shows you how to go after the job.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "The skin on my upper arms is rough. How can I remedy this?

A. Use a bath brush vigorously.

Q. "Will you please tell me if powder and cream cause large pores in the face? I have never used any of these and have a very nice complexion."

A. If you cleanse your face thoroughly when you remove your makeup it will not have this effect. However, if you are a very young girl, leave it off a while longer and satisfy yourself with a dash of powder on your nose and some lipstick. There is nothing so beautiful as a perfect, youthful complexion. Do not begin creams unless your face is dry.

Q. "PLEASE TELL ME if there is anything which will make hair grow."

A. General good health and health habits, a vitamin-rich diet and scalp massage may help. There also are some products on the market which appear to be useful.

Q. "I am 13 years old and most of the girls I know wear lipstick after school when they go out with their parents or boys. I want to wear it but my mother says 'no'."

A. Trust your mother's good taste, for she is right, in my estimation. You really look much smarter without it because smartness depends on appropriateness. There is one cosmetic house which caters to young teen age girls. They have a lipstick which has so little coloring that it does little more than keep the lips soft and doesn't look like lipstick when on the lips. Your mother might not object to this once in a while for special occasions.

Q. "PLEASE TELL ME how I can keep my eyes from swelling. I am 13 years old. I have had my eyes tested and they are perfect. Can it be that I don't get enough sleep?"

A. Lack of sleep could cause the condition you mention. I suggest that you have a physical examination to see if there is any health reason for the swelling. After that you might suspect an allergy.

Debunker

People have long believed that the month of August and the early part of September were times of special danger with regard to dogs going mad. These late Summer weeks are popularly called "dog days," because people believed dogs were likely to go mad at that time. The truth is that the idea is all bunk. There is no connection between the two. In fact, dogs go mad most frequently in April, November and December—disproving the belief that the lack of water during late Summer causes madness.

SHIPYARDS BUSY

LONDON —(CP)— British shipyards are producing 1,764,843 tons of shipping— about 55 per cent of all shipping under construction in the world. Britain is building nearly five times as much shipping as any other country.

A hailstorm occurring in Dallas, Texas, in May, 1926 took a toll of $2,000,000 in damages during its duration of 20 minutes.

THESE WOMEN

By d'Alessio

"Well, for Pete's sake, what good are fenders if you don't use them to FEND once in a while?"

Dorothy Dix Says—

DEAR MISS DIX: We are three sisters. I am 20, the oldest, the others are close to my age. Our parents have laid down for us the following rules of behavior:

NEVER DATE a stranger. Never stay out later than eleven o'clock. Date all boy friends at home until we know them well enough to know they are proper company. Never trust a boy out of sight. Don't throw ourselves at a boy. Never let a boy know we care for him until we are sure he cares for us. Let him know we can always get someone else. Never park and make love in a car. Never go to a dance. Make sure the boy comes from a respable family.

Do you think our parents are being fair to us, and should we continue to follow their rules?

LONLEY GIRLS

Answer: In the main, your parents' rules are good, but your father and mother overlook the fact that customs have changed since they were young, and that if girls are to have dates and a chance to get husbands, they have to have more liberty of action than they did when every maiden was tied to her mother's apron strings.

NOR IS ANY boy going to repay a return engagement if, when he calls on a girl, her mother and father sit within earshot of everything that is being said, not because the conversation needs censoring, but because it makes everybody self-conscious to know they are being eavesdropped. Nor is any girl going to be popular if her mother and father do not put welcome on the doormat and make their home a gay and pleasant place to go to.

Dear Miss Dix: A few months ago my mother came to me and told me she was in financial difficulties and asked me for money. As she and my husband do not get along together she begged me not to tell him about it. I gave her all the money that I had saved up and as that wasn't enough I took some from the household expense account. She assured me she would pay it back, but she hasn't been able to do it, and now I am short $250 and the collectors are getting ugly about the unpaid bills.

DESPERATE WIFE

Answer: Tell your husband at once. The longer you put it off the worse position you will be in. You will have to throw yourself upon his mercy because he will have a right to feel that you have not dealt squarely with him. Your mother should not have asked such a sacrifice of you. It would have been better for her to have faced her loss than to have dragged you into the mess.

Dear Miss Dix: How can I make myself entertaining? When I go out with girls and fellows I don't seem to find anything interesting to say. How can I start a conversation and keep it going?

ROSE

Answer: The easiest way to start a conversation is by asking questions. You must know the things that the boys and girls you go with are interested in. Ask them about their personal affairs, where they have been, what they have done, etc., etc. Everybody likes to talk about themselves. And once you get them started on that fascinating topic, you will find it hard to stop them.

XLII

THE two girls entered Sally's room and Norma turned down the covers of her bed and lowered the shades, while Sally sat before her dressing table and thought what a simpleton she had been to make such a spectacle of herself.

"There," Norma said patting the pillow, "if you slip out of your uniform you'll rest better. It's terribly warm so I'll leave both windows up."

"You're being very kind, Norma," Sally murmured. "Why—why couldn't it have always been like this? Why have you hated me—"

And Norma slipped to the floor beside Sally's chair and buried her head in her lap. "I've never hated you," she sobbed. "I was just jealous. You had everything I—I wanted and—and—I had nothing."

"Everything, Norma?" Sally asked. "What do you mean?"

"You're beautiful—you're good and—and popular. Sonderin favors you. Willoughby's crazy about you and so's the Chief. I—I'm a good nurse, Sally, and yet no one ever tells me so. I don't get the private cases—the specials like you do. No one cares if I'm hurt or not. I—I'm so—so miserable!"

And then Sally laughed gently and her arms tightened around the weeping girl.

"Don't be a goose, Norma Holden," she chided. "We all know you're a good nurse. I heard someone say that just the other day. You have let your imagination run away with you. If I'm popular—and I'm not sure that I am—it's because I like people—like helping them — being glad with them—sharing their interests and worries. Don't be jealous of me, darling," she urged.

"You—you're so sweet!" Norma said, wiping her streaming eyes.

AUNT CLEM had approved of Jim Hallock and she gave her beloved niece her blessing and if her gaze was questioning as from time to time it met Sally's she had nothing to say about the mystical Blair Canfield. Doctor Hallock spoke of her tact on their way back to Linton.

"I like your aunt, darling," he told her. "You know that old affair isn't exactly a pleasant subject to me and I appreciate her thoughtfulness." And Sally appreciated it too.

Richard Gregory was due in Lintonville soon after the Fourth and Sally wondered if his visit had anything to do with Blair Canfield's proposed advent. As the time approached she grew increasingly nervous. Suppose news of Blair Canfield's coming should appear in the Lintonville Chronicle. What could she say? That was always the truth, of course. She could tell those interested that he was not the Blair Canfield she had known. But she doubted if she could carry off the explanation calmly and convincingly. Blair Canfield was by no means a common name. How had it come to glibly to her tongue? She didn't know.

Richard Gregory came to the Annex to see her on the afternoon of his arrival in Lintonville. He looked at her anxiously as they shook hands in the empty reception room of the nurses' home.

"You're thin, Sally," he said, "and pale. Have you been worrying over Canfield's coming here?"

"What do you think?" Sally asked.

HE smiled into her troubled eyes. "No sense in that," he said. "I've found out that he's been ordered back to the Pacific. Winning the war seems to be more important just now than acquiring medals, and I, for one, am glad. Now you look more like yourself, my dear," as Sally uttered a sigh of relief. "Color good, eyes bright and even a smile for me. Carolyn wrote me that you and that fine Doctor Jim Hallock had apparently come to your senses. Allow me to wish you every happiness, Sally. You deserve it."

"Oh, I don't, Dick," Sally whispered, her voice choked.

"Well, anyway, it's yours, my dear, and take my advice and guard it with your life. It's precious. Bye for now."

And Sally's heart sang as she went back to her duties in Women's Surgical, which, as usual, was filled to capacity.

"Has someone left you a fortune, Miss Maynard?" asked middle-aged Mrs. Carson, a Nurse's Aide, just now acting as floor nurse. "It must be a big one from the stars in your eyes."

"No fortune, Mrs. Carson," Sally carolled. "Just grand news—wonderful news and I'm terribly happy about it. Anything happen while I was gone?"

"Hardly," the other said dryly. "You have been gone just 20 minutes. What could happen in this ward in that length of time? No, everything has been quiet."

"Good!" Sally replied and turned as the elevator whirred to a stop. Doctor Hallock stepped out and came toward her. And while neither one stopped, the look in both faces as their glances met and clung brought a glow to the heart of the watcher. What it was to be young and beloved!

Bridge

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

Indianapolis, Ind., is one of the biggest tournament bridge centers in the States today. It has its fair share of champion players, but in addition there are hundreds of people in Indianapolis who play duplicate bridge but never participate in a major tournament. This is largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Grace Buschmann, who teaches bridge and conducts games for literally thousands of people there every year.

Mrs. Buschmann sent me an interesting hand which brings out a point I often mention—counting your tricks. The opening lead is won in dummy with the ace of hearts, and we will assume that a diamond suit is played, declarer takes the finesse and the king wins. Another heart comes back.

small diamond is led. Declarer can make only one diamond trick.

Mrs. Buschmann points out that if declarer counts his three spade tricks, two heart and two club tricks, he will know that he must make two diamond tricks for his contract. The only thing he has to guard against is four diamonds in one hand. If the diamonds are divided three-two, the fourth diamond will make the extra trick. Therefore the correct play on the first diamond trick is the ace to protect against a singleton honor making.

Too many players take it for granted, with a combination like this, that they must take a finesse. Then they complain of hard luck, when in reality they just failed to count their tricks.

British Government Facing Attack on Foreign Policy

By H. R. Wishengrad

LONDON, (ONA)— When parliament reconvenes early next month, the Labor government will face the most powerful attack on the foreign-policy front that it has experienced since it came to power more than a year ago.

Spearheading the attack will be a group of Labor M.P.'s who have been much encouraged by the Wallace affair, and they will have behind them a public opinion deeply alarmed by the drift toward war which prompted the former U.S. secretary of commerce to speak his mind.

While the minority left-wing Laborites are preparing their foreign policy onslaught, under the leadership of such men as Konnie Zilliacus—who is off to Poland this week on a short trip—the Communists party here has already launched its drive. At the outset of this week, for example, the Communists staged a great march through London and a rally at Trafalgar Square in which about 25,000 participated. One of the principal themes of the rally was a demand for the formulation of a peace-with-Russia policy. There will probably be more such rallies in the near future.

Debate to be Asked

Left-wing Laborites, meanwhile, were preparing to bring pressure for a foreign-policy debate when parliament reconvenes and for a discussion of Big Three relations at the forthcoming Trades Union Congress at Brighton. No provision for such a discussion was included in the agenda for the congress meeting Oct. 21 because Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's policy had been endorsed at the recent Labor party conference.

While the Wallace controversy has invigorated Leftist circles here, it has long been obvious that influential figures in the government have been disturbed quite as much as Leftist elements by the sharp deterioration in relations between the East and West. But until the Yugoslav crisis they were inclined to let matters drift, apparently thinking that a brake could be applied at will. There was the feeling, too, that with Uncle Sam carrying the ball in the growing east-west discussion, John Bull's bargaining position would improve.

Instability Highlighted

The Wallace episode, however, revealed the fundamental instability of American foreign policy and this had produced a growing desire within the government for the formulation of a policy somewhat less dependent on Washington in the matter of relations with Moscow.

This may account in at least some measure for the spectacle of Mr. Bevin rushing around from one foreign minister to another of the Big Four. While it is conceded that he is probably concerned with speeding up the Paris conference, there are good grounds for believing that his deeper purpose may well have been that of paving the way for an improvement in Big Four relations. More and more, as time goes by, it is becoming apparent that Mr. Bevin is eager to play the role of east-west mediator.

Asks More Support For Arctic Research

MONTREAL, (CP)—An appeal for greater support of research projects in the Arctic and sub-Arctic was made here by Dr. A. L. Washburn, director of the Arctic institute of North America, who told a meeting of the Geographical association of Montreal that oil, coal and other rich deposits existed in unknown quantities in Canada's northland.

He said Soviet Russia has successfully developed such lands and there were just as rich possibilities in such work in the Canadian Arctic.

Mrs. Donnie Anderson, who, with her husband, W. H. Anderson, is mysteriously missing from their ranch home near Yuba City, Calif. Billy Anderson, stepson of Mrs. Anderson, was taken into custody at Barstow, southern Calif., and held for questioning after an examination of the Anderson home disclosed blood-stains and bits of human flesh, according to police. The boy is also charged with forging his father's name to three cheques totaling $235. He told police he knows nothing of his parents' disappearance and that he had left home because "the folks were too tough on me."

Plan to Put Down Iran Uprisings

TEHERAN, (AP) — Propaganda Minister Prince Mozaffar Firouz declared the Iranian government would put down rebellion "with iron fist" not only the current uprising of rebellious Ashqai tribesmen in southern Iran but any similar outbreaks that may appear elsewhere.

"Instructions have been given to the military commanders in Fars province to resist the rebels to the last man and bullet," Firouz said.

He said it was untrue the ports of Bushire and Kazeroon had been captured by the rebels, but acknowledged the possibility of uprisings breaking out in other parts of the country.

Rebellion Presenting Big Threat to Regime

By Joseph C. Goodwin

JERUSALEM, (AP)— The current rebellion of the powerful Qashqai tribe in southern Iran confronts the crisis-racked Qavam government with the biggest potential threat to its rule since last March, when Russian columns crept to within 20 miles of Teheran.

Two hundred thousand Qashoais (pronced "Cosh Guys") and their subordinate tribes control about 80,000 square miles of southern and central Iran. Their arms and wealth make them disdainful of the Teheran government and give them a balance of power among rival internal elements.

Their present moves—cutting off Shiraz and Bushire and demanding the release of Backtyari tribal leaders recently arrested by order of Propaganda Director Mozaffar Firouz—indicate they are seeking a general tribal coalition against Teheran. Such a coalition, experts agree, probably would result in bloody general warfare.

The Qashoais have a standing army of at least 10,000 rifemen, superbly mounted and hardened to year-round patrolling through the country's rugged mountains and deserts. In addition, all their men—nearly 50,000—live a semi-nomadic existence wit heide arms as part of their gear.

The Backtyari, Iran's second tribe in power, wealth and size, is equally well-armed.

For months during the Iranian-Russian crisis, the Iran government matched its policies to tribal wishes. Tribal leaders were honored at dignified and exclusive parties in the capital. There were whispered conferences in back offices, and Firouz announced the tribes renewed pledges of allegiance to the central government.

The open rebellion of the Qashoais now places the government troops between two unfriendly forces. The Azrbaijanis to the north, who gained semi-autonomy during the Russian occupation, continue to play a high-handed game, collecting customs on imports from the rest of Iran, shipping all food products to Russia and denying government troops and officials entry to Tabriz.

Air Force Reports Air Safety Record

OTTAWA, (CP) — Canadian-based aircraft of No. 1 (transport) Group have achieved a safety record of 5,900,000 miles per fatal accident in 44 months of exacting flying under all kinds of weather conditions, air force headquarters said Wednesday.

"This is the equivalent of 200 flights around the earth at the equator for each crash such as that at Estevan, Sask., Sept. 15," headquarters said.

Specially-mentioned was the performance of No. 1 Air Supply Unit which pioneered the use of large transport aircraft in arctic winter operations by keeping Exercise Muskox supplied with food and fuel.

Dakotas of the type which crashed at Estevan have a reputation for safety and reliability and for more than 85,000 flying hours there had been only three fatal accidents connected with Dakotas in Canada, it was stated.

Suspect 75 Ships Still Radioactive

WASHINGTON, (AP)—About 75 ships mostly berthed on the west coast and at Pearl Harbor, are suspected of dangerous radioactivity as a result of the Bikini atom bomb tests, the joint army-navy task force announced Wednesday.

The announcement said there is no danger to anyone not working on the ships, nor are harbors or docking facilities affected.

An immediate quarantine of all vessels affected was ordered and a special school has been set up in Washington to train 100 officers quickly for decontamination duty.

Finnish Treaty Slated for Friday

PARIS, (CP) — The peace conference secretariat said Wednesday there would be a plenary session "probably Friday" to approve the treaty with Finland, first of the five treaties with former enemy states to be completed.

The conference adopted Big Four proposals for the disposal of Italy's African empire.

Under the new plan, the final decision on the colonies will be taken one year after the Italian peace treaty comes into force, with the Big Four taking cognizance of the wishes of the inhabitants and the views of "other interested governments." The colonies, in the meantime, will remain under the present British administration.

If the Big Four should fail to agree, they will submit the question to the United Nations' general assembly and will abide by its decision.

Man Wakens from Sound Sleep; Finds Bear Looking in Window

PORT ARTHUR, (CP)—A story of a battle of wits with a six-foot, 400-pound black bear was recounted Wednesday by Edward Arthur, an employe of Provincial Paper Limited here.

Arthur said his only regret now was missing a chance for a good rug. "I was so close to the bear that I could have reached out and shaken hands with him," he said.

But he had no thoughts of rugs when he was awakened early Wednesday from a sound sleep. He said, "I heard a thump and then another thump."

Deciding to investigate, he walked into the living room and heard something moving around in the dark.

"I turned on the light and then did I get a shock? Standing on its hind legs, its mouth open, was a big black bear staring through the window.

"I hollered 'get out of here' but that just seemed to make the bear cross. He bashed in the screen and then, reaching through the window, snatched a cover from the chesterfield."

Arthur dashed to the hall to lock the front door. But it was a door-lock. The bear reached the door at the same time and they stood there staring at each other through a pane of glass.

The bear stood his ground while Arthur hooted at him and two dogs barked.

Then he turned on the front porch light.

"This seemed to disconcert the bear for it went down on all fours and waddled out of sight around the side of the house."

Ask Wheat Board Sole Market Body

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor Wednesday urged the dominion government not to reopen the Winnipeg grain exchange for trade in wheat and to make the wheat board the sole permanent grain-marketing agency in the dominion.

The sixth regular C.C.L. convention adopted a resolution submitted by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employes.

"That the federal government be requested not to reopen the Winnipeg grain exchange (for wheat trading) but to keep it closed permanently in the interests of the farmers of western Canada in particular and the Canadian public as a whole. . .

"We request the government to make the wheat board the sole permanent grain-marketing agency, and thus put an end to the unproductive and harmful practice of trading in grain futures which is inimical to the best interests of the public of any country.
